MARGARET LINDMAN, storyteller and puppeteer, adjusts the props on the set of Just Imagine.

'Just Imagine' Is Imaginative Fare

MARGARET LINDMAN knows exactly the kind of entertainment that youngsters between the age of 4 and 7 find most enjoyable.

Mrs. Lindman has been proving this fact on WTTW-Channel 11 with her series of stories and her puppets. Her program is called Just Imagine. And for the small fry it is delightfully imaginative fare.

In addition to her classical children's stories on Tuesdays at 5:30 p. m., Mrs. Lindman presents tales that utilize poetry, finger plays, and art works, as well as her puppets, to help visualize the action.

Mrs. Lindman, who teaches drama, speech, and literature at the National College of Education in Evanston, has created puppets and produced plays for the Lindman Marionettes for the last 15 years.

She and her husband, Richard, and her sister, Mrs. Chester A. Griffith of Waukegan, are co-owners and operators of the Marionettes. Mrs. Lindman has appeared at art and drama festivals thruout the country, and also has presented plays and told stories for several years at the Miracle of Books Fair in Chicago.

She is currently chairman of the Children's Theater Conference for the American Educational Theater association.

Mrs. Lindman also is the author of many articles on children, literature, and the theater. Last year she served as education consultant for CBS-TV's "Friendship" series.

This past summer, Mrs. Lindman was invited to give two performances with her puppets at the Ravinia Festival. She performed "Puss in Boots" and "The Snow Queen."

One of the favorite stories of her young viewers is the Swedish folk tale, "The Cap That Mother Made."

Can You Pick 'Miss America'?

Here's Chance to Match the Choice of the Beauty Experts

MISS AMERICA 1963 will be chosen by a panel of judges who first will select 10 semifinalists from 54 delegates representing the 50 states, New York City, Chicago, District of Columbia and Canada.

They will be judged in evening gown, swim suit and talent competitions.

Part of the live on-the-air proceedings during the Miss America Pageant broadcast on CBS-TV Saturday [8:30 p. m., channel 2] will be the selections by the judges of five finalists from the 10 semifinalists.

Each of these five finalists will be asked a question and scored on the manner in which she responds. On the basis of this response, and on how they score in the other categories of competition, Miss America will be selected, along with the 1st, 2d, 3d, and 4th runners-up.

Can you, while watching the pageant on television, pick the winner? Use the handy scorecard to pit your evaluations of beauty and talent against those of the judges:

Edward Marshall Boehm, sculptor; Robert D. Conger, immediate past president, United States Jr. Chamber of Commerce; Arlene Dahl, film star; Dr. Theodore A. Distler, executive director of the American Association of Colleges.

Michael Ellis, Broadway producer; Kurt F. G. Jafay, portrait photographer; Mrs. William Nash, chairman of the National Panhellenic Conference; Ruth Slenczynska, concert pianist; J. Albert Trescony, director of MGM's Casting and Talent Dept.; and Bernie Wayne, songwriter.

The Lennon Sisters Are Growing Up!

By Bill Irvin

THE LENNON Sisters of Lawrence Welk fame are growing up, both chronologically and imagewise.

If there is any doubt about that, look at the bathing suit photo of the melodious lassies on this page.

Up to now the Lennon girls — Kathy [left], Janet and Peggy — have been photographed in typical school girl or teen-age attire.

But you might say these are the "new" Lennon Sisters. In fact, some of their fans may have difficulty recognizing them in their first cheesecake picture.

If there is one thing the picture proves it is that the pulchritudinous young ladies are as pleasing to the eye as they are to the ear.

It also proves that cheesecake poses are the inalienable right of all young female TV performers.

Once the singing Lennons were four, but Dianne's marriage in mid-October of 1960 reduced the quartet to a trio. The next oldest sister, Peggy, was maid of honor at Dianne's wedding, and Kathy and Janet were bridesmaids.

Now Peggy is 21, Kathy 18, and Janet 15, and judging by the bathing suit picture they are charmers in appearance as well as in song.

The photographer who decided it was time for a bit of cheesecake for the Lennons knew what he was doing.
