NEW YORK—Trade circles are talking about a great comedy team that may be headed for the rocks. This pair, among the funniest seen for years, is getting into all kinds of difficulties because one partner can't stay away from the bottle. More than one night club performance has been cancelled because this star was too loaded to carry on. If it happens on TV, no sponsor will touch them. . . . Dave Garroway is Europe-bound after his last season telecast on June 24. . . . Judy Lynn, of CBSing It Again fame, collects shoes for a hobby. No barefoot girl she, with 83 pairs. . . . Studio One fans can stop fretting. Their favorite drama will be back September 17. . . . No wonder Edgar Bergen is clicking on TV. He used to be a professional photographer in Chicago.

There's some talk about changing the title of Broadway Open House to the Beef Trust—comic Jack Leonard weighs 320 lbs., and Dagmar herself has definitely graduated from the flyweight division. . . . Girls between 4 and 14 are hepped up over the Super Circus search for Miss Curity. Prizes soar over $6,500. . . . Dick "Two Ton" Baker made such a network hit while subbing for pianist Al Morgan that DuMont is considering a permanent place for Baker in the fall schedule. The jolly 350 lb. madcap is major league. . . . Did you know that Susan Peters, star of Miss Susan, designs her own wardrobe? . . . Schlitz will tee off its prize film series on July 6, in place of Pulitzer Prize Playhouse. The not-so-old movies will star such headliners as Kay Francis, Brian Aherne, Constance Bennett and Cary Grant. . . . Garry Moore, the CBSprite, tells about the farmer who fed his chickens ground glass so he could get chopped liver.

Milton DeLugg, the NBComic and accordionist, refers to his squeeze box as a "tenement piano". . . . Jimmy Blaine, songstar of Stop the Music, is a native of Greenville, Texas. Jimmy was a B-17 bomber pilot with 25 missions over France and Germany. . . . When Susie Tripp's doll, Aurora Brown, made her TV debut on Mr. I. Magination recently, it meant a clean sweep for the Tripp family. Susie's father is the star and her mother is the leading lady. . . . TV travelers this summer include Ralph Bellamy and Jack Carter to Europe, and Peter Donald to Bermuda. . . . Jimmy Durante's biography, titled "The Schnozzola," will be published this fall. . . . Bandman Sammy Kaye's forthcoming TV series will feature the maestro in a singing role. . . . Moscow reports 15,000 TV sets in that area. Guess whose picture is on the test pattern?

Coming up soon—a Meet Corliss Archer series on CBS. . . . The Alan Young show is being replaced by a news roundup on film. . . . Charlie Wild, Private Detective, gets bounced by its sponsor after June 27. . . . That sensational dance team of Tommy Wonder and Margaret Banks, seen on the Vaughn Monroe show, are currently cashing in on night club appearances. . . . Perry Como owned his own barbershop when he was 14. . . . What's My Line show draws more than 1,000 fan letters every week. . . . Doodles Weaver, the new NBComic, started life as Winstead Sheffield Weaver, but changed it because he thought Doodles sounded more dignified.

CUBE ROOTS ARE FUN

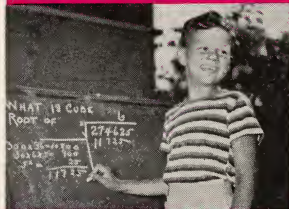

Chico Marx and Joel

Bing Crosby was stumped

Fred Allen was amazed

Really nothing to it!

ONE day, back in 1942, a five year old boy was listening to a radio quiz program and thought it might be fun to be a Quiz Kid. And so he sat down and printed this letter:

"I am five and a half years old.

I can do 99 times 98 or any number up to 100 in my head . . . I can add faster than my mother and the man at the store. I like to fall asleep counting 6 plus 6 equals 12—12 plus 12 equals 24—24 plus 24 equals 48 until I get up into the thousands and then I am asleep.

But I am not as good at numbers as Richard Williams.

I know a little geography too . . . like hemispheres, and the names of the continents and oceans.

I would like to be a Quiz Kid.

Love,

Joel

PS My grandfather has teeth that he takes out at night, but he is smart."

Joel, as anyone knows who watches the famed Friday night show on WNBQ, is Joel Kupperman, math wizard who holds the record for appearing more times on the program than any other child. The Richard Williams he mentioned in his first letter to the Lou Cowan agency was his idol, and one of the most brilliant Quiz Kids to star in the Alka Seltzer show.

For his 367 radio and now television appearances, Joel has amassed $36,700 in bonds, and it is all in the hands of the Probate court to be used only for education if spent before the young man is 21.

Now 15 years old, and in his final year as a Quiz Kid, Joel Kupperman continues to fascinate the millions who watch him calculate in lightning fashion. In the early days he refused to tell anyone how he worked problems so quickly, saying they were "seequit twicks." Now he reveals his secrets.

For instance, when he multiplies two numbers, he works toward the nearest zero. In multiplying 24 by 98 he multiplies 24 by 100, getting 2400; then 24 by 2 (2 is the difference between 98 and 100) which is 48. He subtracts 48 from 2400 and gets 2,352. He can also give immediately the cube root of any perfect cube under a million!

FOR JOEL

Joel is the son of Sol and Sara Kupperman of Chicago. He has a 16 year old sister, Harriet, who was also a Quiz Kid and who is now planning to enter Northwestern university in the fall. Mr. Kupperman, too, is a great mathematician. He is an engineer who works for the city, Mrs. Kupperman is a former Chicago public grade school teacher.

The first few years of Joel's life, the Kuppermans were a bit worried about their son's backwardness. Joel was slow in developing. He didn't walk or talk until he was 18 months old. Harriet had started talking at eight months.

Mrs. Kupperman started reading to Joel when he was three. When she had finished each story, Joel would repeat the story back to her, almost word for word. After he knew the story by heart, he would sit in bed by the hour, with the book propped in front of him, pretending to read. Actually, he was telling the story from memory while looking at the book's pages.

Joel learned to read upside down. Sister Harriet always sat across the table from him when she was starting to read. Her book rested on the table, so that Joel saw words upside down. That way, he picked up words and letters—only in a rather reversed manner! When Momma discovered what was happening, she had quite a time teaching him the correct method.

Joel is a very religious person. As a baby he liked to sit by himself and talk to God. He used to read Bible stories, and now owns and reads his own Bible.

He wants to be a lawyer and be as much like Abraham Lincoln as possible. He would like to study law at Northwestern University in Chicago.

This week's cover photo was taken early in Joel's career as a Quiz Kid, when Bob Hope visited the program.

ED ALLEN'S

BY ED ALLEN

Written exclusively for TV Forecast

Hot summer weather being what it is, there is nothing more important to your health than the quality and quantity of food you consume. By observing rules of diet strictly, you can be assured of a healthful and happy vacation time.

There are certain general rules for dieting. You should meet the daily nutritional requirements set up by the National Research Council. This expert board recommends a diet of approximately 1600 calories each day, broken down in the following manner:

Milk	1 pint
Egg	1
Meat, fish, poultry or cottage cheese	4 oz. raw or 3 oz. cooked
Whole wheat or enriched white bread	3 slices
Whole wheat or enriched cereal	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup
Potato	1 small
Green or yellow vegetable	1 serving
Other vegetable (1 raw)	2 servings
Citrus fruit	1 serving
Other fruit (fresh or water packed)	2 servings
Butter or fortified margarine	3 teaspoons

Certain diet rules apply to both men and women, even though each sex has its own physical differences. The following information will apply equally well to both a hard-working housewife or career girl, and a busy Loop executive or suburban office worker:

Coffee & Tea—Use as desired without cream and sugar. Milk can be added for taste.

Salad Dressing—Lemon juice and vinegar may be used. Mineral oil dressings, however, are discouraged because they break up the fat-soluble vitamins.

Breads & Cereals—All breads and cereals should be whole wheat, rye or enriched white.

Potato—May be boiled or baked with butter and milk added.

Meat, Fish & Poultry—May be roasted, broiled or boiled, but not fried. Excess fat should be trimmed.

Fruits—Either fresh or water-packed (minus sugar).

Egg—May be boiled, poached or scrambled with milk and butter added. Two eggs may be substituted for a meat serving.

Letters to the Editor

A sincere note of congratulations for entering your fourth year and doing so good a job on what we recognize over here as a new and improved TV Fore-cast Magazine. May your present readership of one-half million double itself in a shorter time than the three successful years that you have thus enjoyed.

Thus far no mention has been made of "What's My Line?" going off the air for a while. In the beginning we enjoyed that program. Now it's ridiculous. What do they take the public for by looking at ones ties or a label in a suit they can guess one's occupation. Why blindfold the panel for the guest celebrity they've met before the program?

Chicago, Ill.

MRS. H. J. GIORGONE

Ed. Note: Staff members of this magazine have been backstage on this program to verify authenticity of surprise guests.

Jealousy is the reason for the knocks against the pretty gals on TV. Notice it's always from a woman?

MRS. MARIE ECKERT

Well, we did it again. We received Houston, Texas on our television set, station KPRC-TV. A year ago about this time we received station KLEE-TV, Houston.

The Bob and Kay show is for the most part commendable. But there is one thing that is definitely objectionable. And that is they seem to talk more to people in the studio than at home.

Chicago, Ill.

BILLY OLSON

I have never been so thrilled in all my life as I was the night I watched Annis "Big Red" Jensen skate in the Roller Derby. There's only one word that describes her, and that's "Wow!"

Chicago, Ill.

CHRIS STUART

I predict an early death for "Here Comes the Bride," just as occurred in "Wedding Day." This sort of thing does nothing but leave a bad taste in the mouths of sponsor and public.

Chicago, Ill.

HELEN TARNOVITS

Like your new women's section. Good idea.

Worth, Ill.

MRS. R. A. MEYER

We would appreciate it very much if you would use your influence to get more "Topper" films on television. They are the best pictures that have been on TV thus far.

Chicago, Ill.

GERALD W. GORDON JR.

Every so often you make a stupid blunder and attempt to compare Chicago TV with that of N. Y. The only three shows Chicago has worth mentioning are Garroway, Studs, and Kukla. . . . Now if you want a few N. Y. shows that run circles around the above mentioned, here they are: Frankie Boy, Ken Murray, Durante, Berle, Lester, Studio One. PS: No, I don't come from N. Y.

Chicago, Ill.

IVAN BUNNY

Wouldn't a Church service be more appropriate on Sunday mornings than some of those old movies? I'm sure the shut-ins and others would appreciate it more, especially when movies can be seen most anytime.

... Hot Weather Diet

Film stars Tony Curtis and Piper Laurie with Allen.

Summer unfortunately is such a short season that all of us are tempted to overdo in the exercise department, especially on those wonderful weekends. Here are a few tips that should help you to report for work on Monday mornings, still a member of the human race:

1. Start each exercise with a warmup session, slow and easy moving.
2. Wear loose fitting clothing for maximum circulation.
3. Don't gulp cold water in great quantity. Better to wait and sip.
4. Don't exhaust yourself at any time. Exercise only until comfortably tired.
5. Concentrate on your exercise. Actually, more muscles will benefit with quicker and greater results.
6. Before all else, check with your doctor.

Ed Allen is the husky, personable young man who conducts the popular "Fun and Figure" show five mornings a week on WBKB. He was born in Milwaukee, December 13, 1926, attended Hirsch High in Chicago, and performed with an operetta company at the Civic Opera House.

Ed graduated to the Broadway stage, appearing in such hits as "A Lady Says Yes" with Carole Landis and "Follow The Girls" with Gertrude Niesen. After that, he served with the U. S. Air Corps.

Things moved fast after Ed's discharge. He introduced an exercise show in Detroit TV, called "Hollywood Figure." He's now married with a seven month old baby, Edward III. Ed's hobbies are painting, drawing and weight lifting. His physical measurements include weight 195 lbs, height 6' 1", chest 44", arm 16" and waist 29".

Let's Take a Peek at TV in 1966 . . .

by JACK MABLEY

I'm going to take a fling this week at Oliver Dragon's favorite form of literature—science fiction.

Let's take a look at television, not in the 21st century, but a mere 15 years from now. We're going to try to visualize life with television on the basis of what we know now, and the speed with which the industry has developed in the past decade. It won't make much sense, but that shouldn't bother us. Television always has been unbelievable anyway. Even Jules Verne didn't foresee anything as fantastic as 10,000,000 people sitting in their living rooms and watching something taking place a thousand miles away.

Of course 15 years from now all television will be in color, which automatically will make it about 10 times as effective and appealing. There will be 2,000 stations in the country. Chicago will have 10 stations.

Some stations will be on the present very high frequency, and most will be on the new ultra high frequencies. But all commercial sets will be able to get either frequency, so we won't even be conscious of the difference.

All rural areas will have TV. There will be stations in cities of 40,000 and even 25,000 or 20,000. Country areas out of range of these cities will be served by feeder stations, which will fan out from the cities.

There will be sets in practically every home that now has a radio. Most families will have a couple of sets, and the youngsters probably will have a portable to take down to the beach. Homes will have sets built into the walls, in living rooms, bedrooms, basements. Mom may have a small set built in with her kitchen cabinets, and a few showoffs will put sets in the bathroom.

Some cars will have TV screens in the back seats, and they will be standard equipment in buses, trains, and planes.

Screen sizes will range from 10 or 12 inches for the little utility jobs up to any size, limited only by the dimensions of the house. This large picture will not come on a tube, but by projection.

And what will we be seeing on the screens? We'll probably have to pay to see the best entertainment. Theater television will be the highest bidder for some top events, such as major football games or the world series or a performance of "South Pacific," which we presume will still be going strong in 1966.

Fifteen thousand movie theaters throughout the country will be tied to a television hookup. The Notre Dame-Army game of 1966 will be on theater television. Each of the theaters will have an average of two-thirds of its 3,000 seats filled, making a total audience for the game of 56,000 in the stadium at South Bend and 30,000,000 in theaters. The gate will be $30,000,000 at $1 a head. Good quarterbacks will retire upon graduation from college and spend the rest of their lives clipping coupons.

Folks at home will have their choice of the educational channels, Phonovision, which will carry all the latest movies, plus sports events and whatever else it can outbid theater-TV for.

And what will be on the commercial television stations? Well, 15 years from now, Milton Berle's contract with NBC will have 16 years to go, and that's not fiction, science or otherwise. That's fact.

"I hope you don't mind if I go on watching my TV show while you visit, Reverend?"

When Clarence Hartzell took those sightseeing jaunts into the California desert a couple of years ago, he never realized he was picking up knowledge which would eventually put him into television.

Clarence, a veteran actor despite his youthful years, moved to Hollywood in 1946 where he spent a couple of years presenting his "old man" characterizations. He went to New York in the spring of 1949 for a series on the Henry Morgan Show and then returned to Chicago last summer.

Shortly thereafter, he made his first appearance in television as Cactus Jim, teller of western adventure stories in the series of the same name (WNBQ, Mondays through Fridays).

A member of a musical family, Clarence started his career as an entertainer in a harmony act with his brother on a West Virginia radio station. He later turned to announcing in Cincinnati and then moved to Chicago to fulfill a hankering to be a stage actor.

He auditioned for a stock company director who had cast all roles except that of a venerable old insurance agent. Clarence got the part and started his "old man" career. That was in 1935.

Three years later he left the footlights for the microphone.

In addition to his acting ability, Clarence is an accomplished musician, playing the violin, piano and cello. He has written numerous compositions ranging from popular songs to concert suites.

Hartzell is married and lives on a 70-acre truck farm near Chicago. He was born in Huntington, W. Va., cuts birthday cake on October 26 and collects antiques.

This week's contest: Where do you want to vacation this summer? Write a letter to Uncle Herbie, telling him why, and the letters picked the most interesting win the following prizes: $1 for the best; 50 cents, second place; 25 cents each third and fourth place. Address all entries to Uncle Herbie, c/o TV Forecast, 185 N. Wabash, Chicago 1.

forecast for women focuses on the coiffure trends among Chicago's most beautiful stars, many of whom have recently taken drastic departure from their usual styles with startling and interesting effect. . . . Dorsey Connors, the NBC gal with the gimmicks, caused heads to turn when she appeared with a triangular hairdo designed for her by Michel of Helena Rubinstein's, while Toni Gilman, returning to television via WGN-TV, abandoned her feathery curls for sleek Dutch-boy bangs. . . . Connie Russell, NBC lovely and one of the last to shear her long locks, now wears a tightly curled cap hairdo, as she prepares to take over the Nellie Forbush role in "South Pacific" for the month of July. . . . Kay Westfall's new coiffure features soft waves softly brushed up at the sides and is the most becoming to date on the ABC performer. . . . And has anyone else noticed how much Terry Georgian, WGN-TV exercise expert, looks like Joan Crawford with her current hairdo? . . . If you're planning a new styling be sure it's designed for your face and features by a trained stylist, not copied from your favorite TV gal!

Jeanne Youle is shown seated to one side of the stone fireplace in the living room. One of two fur rugs is in front of the hearth and Mexican prints hang over the mantle.

Remodeling a Home Fun for the Youles

By PATRICIA COOPER

Jessica and Susan, the Youles' young daughters, peck over the lovely oak rail.

CONTEMPORARY, traditional and early American pieces mixed with skill and taste blend into a livable, functional home for Jeanne and Clint Youle (The Weatherman, WNBQ) who recently have completed remodeling and redecorating a ten room home in suburban Wheaton.

The home, an imposing three story frame structure built before the turn of the century, stands on a heavily wooded lot in the center of the suburb. When purchased by the Youles, it gave evidence of not having been redecorated in the last 50 years.

"Everything was dark and dingy looking when we first looked at the house," Jeanne told us as we sat in the comfortable living room. "The woodwork was almost black from repeated coats of varnish and the walls presented a dismal picture."

To remove this dark appearance, the Youles first tore out the wall dividing the living room and stairway to the second floor, bringing the stairway into the room and lengthening the living area. They also gained two windows on the stair wall.

"Livability" is Jeanne's one word summation of their decorating ideas. "We considered everything from the standpoint of comfort. We also mixed furniture periods because we happen to like modern living rooms and old-fashioned dining rooms, some modern bedrooms, others in early American pieces."

In the living room and adjoining sitting room, the walls are painted a deep green, with white woodwork, and gray wall-to-wall carpeting. A handsome crab orchard stone fireplace dominates the wall dividing the two rooms.

A striking wallpaper mural on the back wall of the sitting room creates a feeling of added depth in the room; the other three walls are painted green. A large sofa is placed beneath the mural and the television set is on the opposite wall.

Two handsome fur rugs, purchased in South America by the Youles, are used in these two rooms. Made of Llama, Alpaca and Caracul fur, one rug is placed in front of the fireplace and the other beneath a leather-topped coffee table, also from Peru, in the sitting room.

In the dining room the woodwork was given a natural finish, as was the plate rail. A large antique mahogany cabinet dominates one wall, with a smaller built-in cabinet on the opposite wall to take care of their china. Maple furniture, braided rugs and white ruffled curtains give this room an old-fashioned, country air.

Hotpoint designed Jeanne's modern blue and yellow kitchen, with sink-dishwasher—disposal unit, large refrigerator and electric range. A built-in breakfast bar on the stair wall has a formica top, as do all the base cabinets. The floor is covered with blue rubber tile.

A pink and white playroom for their two daughters, Jessica and Susan, and a full bath complete the first floor.

Jeanne and Clint's room has blue walls with a wallpaper panel behind the bed and blue draw drapes at the window. A wardrobe wall provides ample storage space for clothes. The furniture is of bleached mahogany.

In the children's room, where maple furniture is used, Jeanne selected a quaint Mother Goose paper with white background that has provided many hours of delight for the children. Dark green draw drapes create color contrast.

The guest room has a soft yellow floral paper on the walls, a perfect setting for the early American bed and dresser and such home touches as ruffled curtains at the windows.

Clint's office, which has a wonderful, large roll top desk in it, is painted yellow with white woodwork. The maid's room and a second bath complete the second floor.

As you move from room to room, you feel that here is a house that is lived in and enjoyed not only by those who call it home but by all who share its hospitality. A tribute to the efforts of Jeanne and Clint in furnishing their home.

The Weatherman, presented at 10 p.m. Sunday thru Friday on WNBQ, is sponsored by Ceresota Flour Mills, Commonwealth Edison, Santa Fe Railroad, and Home Gas Industries.

This handsome leather-top coffee table also came from South America when Clint was with the US Army Airforces

Jeanne displays one of her lovely antique dishes encased in the handsome cabinet in the dining room. The china was brought from Scotland by her parents.

In Jeanne and Clint's room this large wardrobe answers the clothes problem. Jessica and Susan give their mother an assist.

Jeanne removes the sparkling clean dishes from her Hotpoint dishwasher, one of several time and step savers in her modern blue and yellow kitchen.

no. 4 of a series

"Dora's Cake from Denver," favorite dessert in the home of Vera and Don Ward, co-emcees of "Parade" seen Monday at 10:15 p.m. on WBKB, is the most unusually named recipe to date in our series.

Vera explains that the cake came to her from Don's mother without a clue as to how it received its name, but that Don doesn't need to use his magic "Piff, Paff, Puff" to make it disappear in their household. The "household" includes Grandma Bantz and the Ward's two daughters, Mari, 4, and Laura, 14 months.

Come fall, Vera and Don together with their friends Breezy, Captain Crusty and the gang from the "Breezy, Don and Vera" puppet show plan to be rehearsing a new TV show.

Dora's Cake from Denver

- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1½ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon baking soda
- 2½ cups applesauce
- 2 tablespoons corn or maple syrup
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 cup chopped nutmeats (walnuts or pecans)

Cream butter and sugar gradually. Add unbeaten eggs one at a time. Re-sift flour together with soda and spices. Add alternately with combined applesauce and syrup. Fold in raisins and nuts. Pour batter into greased 9-inch square pan and bake in 300 degree oven for 1½ hours. Frosting is optional. Serves 16 or 12 very generously.

Vera finds there is usually enough batter to fill a tiny pan for the children.

Waring Crooner

JOE MARINE

Joe Marine, who sings ballads with Fred Waring's WBKB show, can croon notes as tender as a baby's sigh despite his fighting name and football build. It's an old paradox with Joe—in high school he alternated between vocal lessons and the gridiron team.

Joe's debut came one year after prep graduation. He sang with famed Hazel Scott at the New York World Fair. Despite a successful audition with Harry James' orchestra, Joe Marine joined the Army and served as a rifleman in the historic Battle of the Bulge.

It is true that Ernie Simon has received flattering New York offers, but he won't take them. It's not true that top Chicago TV stars are members of a swish brigade. It is true that several ranking radio stars from WBBM will shortly be launched on TV careers via channel 4. It's not true that TV listings in newspapers are a success. Weekend circulation continues downward.

The Last Word

DEAR BOSS:

When are you going to let your readers in on the mystery of Q.E.D. What do these initials stand for, or does anyone know? I'm watching it one more Tuesday night, and that's it.

Also in the Dept. of Intriguing Titles is the new WGN-TV program slated for Wednesdays, called Not for Publication.

Happy to see channel 9 col-lared Chicagoan Lee Schooler for their new anti-Berle show Tuesdays. Lee is a top moderator, and we enjoyed his teevee debut. There are plenty of situations that can be aired on a show of this type, and we hope they do not put the dampers on this boy.

Two more people that please me, since their entry to TV are Marion Marlowe and Jim Dimitri. Marion is seen weekly with the Arthur Godfrey show, and is good therapy after a hard day at the office. Jim charms the gals on the Oh Kay show Saturdays. Both youngsters are fresh and good looking, and should last.

Can't predict what will happen to Jerry Colonna. Have you made up your mind about whether or not he's entertaining?

Would like to go on record as an anti-Kirby Stone fan. Not only is he a bore, but his music is so bad I'm forced to turn off Broadway Open House. Also, it's apparent the writers are hard up for material when they repeatedly call for Dagmar to drop things on-stage. In picking the objects off the floor, Dagmar apparently makes up for poor scripts and sloppy direction.

Wish you could see our living room on the nights Pars, Birdies and Eagles is telecast. My mother-in-law has decided to take up golf, which is really good news. It means she'll be out of the house at least one day a week and I'll be able to watch the kind of shows I want to.

NCAA TV Ban Will Collapse . . .

AT the time of this writing, the University of Pennsylvania is submerged to its ears in hot water. We predicted several weeks ago that Penn would defy the NCAA moratorium and fight for its rights to televise all home football games.

As a result of Penn's spunky bolt, they were suspended by the NCAA. California, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell and Dartmouth announced they would not play if Penn persisted in its plans to televise their games. In spite of their recent set-backs, Penn intends to fight the issue to the bitter end.

Talking to Mort Berry, Penn's publicist, over the long distance phone he expressed hope that more schools would follow their example and bolt the NCAA. "They have no authority to enforce such a rule. We are convinced that TV did not hurt attendance and that majority of the schools in the NCAA are against this TV moratorium," said Berry.

Francis Murray, Penn's director of athletics, suggested the dispute be put into the hands of the U.S. Attorney General. If this is done, a long and bitter battle will ensue to determine whether or not the NCAA moratorium constitutes a restraint of trade. It is our contention that the NCAA is in violation of the anti-trust law and the courts will rule in favor of Penn.

About Theatre-TV . . .

With the acquisition of the American Broadcasting Company by United Paramount Theatres and the rapid progress of Phonevision, a tremendous battle of giants is taking shape. Initial shots were fired by the Theatre-TV group by telecasting the Joe Louis-Lee Savold fight. Theatre-televisors plan to secure exclusive rights to such events as baseball, football, golf and other events of national interest. Phonevision plans to telecast an equally entertaining program.

There may soon come a day when a fan will have his choice to see the World Series in one of three ways:

1. By theatre-TV, in your favorite local theatre for an undetermined price of admission.
2. By Phonevision, through your present TV set on a pay-as-you-see basis.
3. By television, through your present TV set, but sponsored with intermittent commercials.

The final decision rests, of course, with the public. Which do you prefer?

Mailbag: "... May I suggest you use your influence to persuade the Chicago Daily News to telecast their Regatta off Grant Park?"—Billy Olson, Chicago, Ill.

"... We would like to see a rematch between Miller and Silverstein, and I'll bet the promoters wouldn't dare do it."—Bob Bradshaw, Kenosha, Wis.

"... There's too much foul play in wrestling. Why was Ruffy handed a decision over Miller. That fight was a draw. Why can't you as an editor do something about it?"—Rev. M. B. Smith, Joliet, Ill.

"... Could you send me a picture of Don Eagle? He's a great favorite of mine and would appreciate his picture."—Rose Ronochowski, Chicago, Ill.

For Don's pix write to Carl Schaller, Rainbo Arena, 4836 N. Clark St., Chicago, Ill. If Carl has none on hand, he'll tell you where to write.

Does Thesz

Ruffy Silverstein (above) dreams of the day he can face Lou Thesz to win an undisputed heavyweight crown. Said Ruffy: "He beat me once before but that was a long time ago. I dare him to try it again. Why should he refuse?" Ruffy can be seen in action every Wednesday night, WENR-TV, 9:00 p.m.

Kohler's Reply to Schwartz

AS liaison between Chicago's two TV wrestling promoters (Leonard Schwartz, WENR-TV and Fred Kohler, WGN-TV), TV Forecast has endeavored to bring wrestling fans a true heavyweight champion. With so many title claimants, the average TV viewer has become confused and demands a champion who has won his laurels in actual competition.

Fred Kohler maintains he has the one and only champion—Lou Thesz—as recognized by the National Wrestling Alliance. Leonard Schwartz disputes Kohler's claim on the grounds NWA wrestlers are limited to NWA opponents and thereby have not faced the toughest opposition available. Schwartz and matchmaker Ray Fabiani are eager to clarify the championship muddle and have posted a bona fide cash offer challenging any wrestler in the world to meet their "uncrowned champion" Ruffy Silverstein.

Acting as the intermediary between both promoters to set up a Thesz-Silverstein match in order to settle the dispute, TV Forecast has contacted Kohler, who exclaimed: "I wouldn't want Thesz to belittle himself by meeting Silverstein. It wouldn't draw and by meeting Silverstein, Thesz would suffer a loss of prestige."

"I saw Thesz knock the daylights out of Silverstein once before and don't care to see it happen again. Why should Thesz, a champion, belittle himself? Besides Rainbo Arena is a small place and Schwartz, who is a member of the NWA, knows how he can get Thesz if he wants him. Another thing, why should I make money for my competitors by placing my best wrestler in their arena?"

FRANCOIS MIQUET

A NEW TV FAVORITE

hordes swarmed over the poorly armed French forces. Following a lengthy period as a prisoner in Nazi concentration camps, he managed to escape and immediately joined the French underground.

Miquet once again resumed his wrestling career when the war ended, but this time as a professional. He soon won the French junior heavyweight title and held it for five years. The title was forfeited when he secured entry into Canada.

In keeping with his colorful career, Francois made a successful debut in Montreal. He applied for and received permission to enter the United States and in the short time he has been seen before WENR-TV cameras, he has become a big hit with wrestling fans.

Without a doubt one of the fastest men produced in Europe, Francois also proved his versatility as a grappler with a vast assortment of holds. Miquet is 30 years old, stands 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs a muscular 215 pounds.

ONE of the most colorful and capable newcomers to invade our TV screens is one of France's great wrestlers—Francois Miquet.

Francois has an impressive background both as an individual and as a television wrestler. In 1940, when the world was threatened with World War II, Miquet was selected for the French Olympic team as a light heavyweight. Unfortunately, the team was unable to display its wares when the war broke out in full force and France was overrun.

Francois was quick to join the army but was taken prisoner when Nazi

Wayne Griffin Pinned for a Full Count!

When wrestling fans tuned in their TV sets Wednesday night for wrestling from Rainbo over WENR-TV and the ABC-TV network, they were surprised to see and hear the voice of Pat Flanagan. For the first time in three years, Wayne Griffin failed to make his Wednesday night wrestling date. The Pittsburgh honorary fire chief was pinned down at St. Francis hospital in Evanston with severe internal disorders.

One morning Wayne got up early and prepared for breakfast when he suddenly collapsed and was rushed to the hospital. His condition was critical, being fed intravenously for days. Wayne, the trooper he is, smiled through it all and commented: "Television nerves, that's what it is!" Wayne is now fully recovered and returned to his favorite seat—ringside at Rainbo Arena.

Mrs. Griffin (left) tries to soothe ailing "Griff" with the assistance of nurse Barbara Wilson. Tubes taped to Griff are "feeder tubes" used for intravenous feeding.
