Channel One

NEW YORK—Ken Murray looks like a good bet to join NBC's comedian stable as of next fall. The leering comic pulled consistently hefty ratings on CBS despite bucking NBC's potent All Star Revue, but couldn't come to terms with CBS bigwigs over a new contract. Which leaves the network without much Saturday night drawing power thus far. . . . Bing Crosby's long awaited debut on TV will take place next fall. The Groaner will do about ten shows a year, all on film. Coca-Cola will sponsor. To fill out the season's schedule for the times when Bing isn't on, Andre Kostelanetz will do a half-hour musical show. . . . Illean Martin, singing star on Mel Martin's Breakfast Party, ties the knot on June 14 with producer Bill Huffman.

The latest switch on talent stealing has NBC trying to woo Bishop Fulton J. Sheen away from Dumont. The Bishop declined the offer which supposedly was $50,000 to be given to whatever charity the Bishop chose. His show will remain on TV throughout the summer on film. . . . Max Liebman, producer of the mammoth Show of Shows, has been approached by the famed Schubert brothers of Broadway fame. They'd like Max to produce a new version of the Ziegfeld Follies, to open next fall on Broadway. Liebman says his first allegiance is to NBC and that if the added chores prove too much, he'll abandon them. . . . "Most problems can be divided into two groups," says Bergen Evans, learned emcee of Down You Go, "one concerning money, and the other—not enough of it."

Since comic Jerry Lester brought suit against NBC the network has dropped Jerry from its summer plans. Blind Date, summer replacement for Your Show of Shows was originally scheduled for Jerry, but now Arlene Francis will take over the emcee duties. . . . Nancy Lewis, singing star of Paul Whiteman's TV Teen club, says a dollar doesn't go as far as it used to—but what it lacks in distance, it makes up for in speed. . . . Among the summer replacements for Ed Sullivan as emcee on his "Toast of The Town" are Walt Disney, Dolores Gray and Peter Lind Hayes & Mary Healy. . . . Ed's anniversary show on June 15 will feature songstar Jane Froman who brings the house down every time she appears.

Red Skelton's show next fall will be seen earlier in the evening to capitalize more on the kiddies' audience. An entire studio in Hollywood has been set aside exclusively for the Skelton program. Ditto for Milton Berle in New York. . . . Eddie Mayehoff, who first broke into the big time playing Jerry Lewis' pop in the movie "That's My Boy," will be seen in a half-hour comedy show by the same name. It will follow Skelton's show on Sunday nights. . . . Henry Morgan scheduled to replace Edward R. Murrow's See It Now for the summer was cancelled out by the sponsor. . . . Another new panel quiz, called Masquerade Party, will get its shakedown cruise as a four-week replacement for Paul Winchell & Jerry Mahoney. Bud Collyer will emcee.

NBC, trying to out-celebrity the other networks at the Chicago political conventions, has pacted Bob Hope to do a series of five minute commentary shows. Bob will act as a sort of political analyst along the lines of the late Will Rogers.

All letters must be signed, with addresses.
Names will be withheld if requested.

It's a shame that two such excellent programs as the Wayne King show and Stud's Place should conflict in time.

Hammond, Ind.

ESTHER MAHLIE

At last there's somebody giving Milton Berle some competition. I am speaking of Bishop Fulton J. Sheen. His talks are really worth listening to rather than Berle's corny jokes.

Chicago, Ill.

JOAN POSCH

Would you please tell me who plays Natco the Clown? He does such a wonderful job.

Chicago, Ill.

ANITRA EARLE

(Ed. note: Wonderful Natco is played by Art Hern.)

All week long we get a fine clear picture on channel 9, but when Saturday night comes along and we get set to watch wrestling, the picture becomes fuzzy. Don't they want to have good reception for that event.

Niles, Mich.

RAY WIRANT

If the reason "Stranger than Fiction" is no longer on is because they don't have any more strange things to show, why don't they just show the old strange things over again.

Maywood, Ill.

DURIE BROWN

(Ed. note: They wouldn't be strange anymore.)

The "Here's Your Navy" show on channel 9, May 15th was just wonderful. Let's have more like it.

MRS. R. YOUNG

They shouldn't put such a horrible singer on the same stage with a picture starring Tony Curtis.

Chicago, Ill.

PAT SHEPPARD

... The type of listener that seems to be entranced by a singer that breaks out in tears could not be expected to appreciate anything as fine as Toscanini playing the "Pines of Rome."

SHE TAUNTS & CODDLES THE LYRICS

"FISH gotta swim . . . birds gotta fly . . . I gotta love one man till I die . . . can't help lovin' dat man of mine."

It was Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" program. Bathed in a solitary white spot light stood a bronzed beauty, brittle and electric, with fiery eyes and glistening chalk-like teeth. She was part of the parade of stars saluting Oscar Hammerstein II, the famous lyricist.

"When he goes away . . . that's a rainy day . . . but when he comes back that day is fine . . . the sun will shi-i-i-ine."

Television viewers were getting an all-too-infrequent glimpse of the best torch singer in the country, Miss Lena Horne, our choice for the number four spot in the list of TV's top five female vocalists.

Lena is a study in seduction by goose pimples. Embracing a suitable song, she strips it of any ordinary treatment and drapes it with a sleek, tiger-like ferociousness. Then she sells it, first of all with a pair of flaring, frenzy-struck eyes that swim with unmistakable insinuation. With the feeling established, she taunts and coddles the lyrics with her large sensuous mouth, close-pinked nostrils and expressive hands.

It's all mood. A dimly-lit stage. A strikingly beautiful woman. And a dusky, low-down treatment of a plaintive tune:

" . . . Stormy weather . . . since my man and I ain't together . . . keeps raining all the time . . . the time."

The sophisticated night club star was born, ironically enough, within the rowdy boundaries of the land of "Dem Bums," Brooklyn, N. Y. on June 30, 1917. She quit school when she was 16 and landed a spot in the chorus line of the famous Cotton Club. From there it was a series of bit parts on Broadway (with Ethel Waters when the latter immortalized "Stormy Weather"), at clubs (as a songstress with Noble Sissle in 1936) and as vocalist with Charlie Barnet.

In 1941, Lena made her debut as a single at the Cafe Society Downtown in New York. Nitery crowds, accustomed to the usual barrelhouse-type negro singing, were startled when Miss Horne flashed her sultry, hypnotizing treatment on such numbers as "Lover" and "Honey-Suckle Rose."

Theater dates, movies, recordings and even an engagement at Carnegie Hall followed. Her first flicker, "Panama Hattie," was followed up by "Cabin In the Sky," "Stormy Weather," "I Dood It," and "As Thousands Cheer."

Probably no other songstress alive sells a song better or interprets a tune as excitingly as the beauty from Brooklyn, our number four female singer, Lena Horne.

Next Week we spotlight number three.

HOW TO THAT QUIZ

Quiz shows started innocently enough when a man named Bob Hawk began posing his famous $64 dollar question to contestants on radio's "Take It Or Leave It." Today, the quizzer has snowballed into a show business plague. Refrigerators, mink coats and huge jackpot prizes have made Hawk's top offering of 64 bucks look like a sickly pittance, not even worth a trip to the studio.

The money and prizes are there to be won. During vacation time it is very possible for tourists to be contestants on some of the shows emanating from the East or West coasts. And locally, of course, prizes are also available. So for the benefit of TV Forecast readers, here's an informative rundown of thirteen top quiz shows—local and network—that might mean some winnings and perhaps a little fame for you.

BEAT THE CLOCK—A rigorous field day for married couples whom emcee Bud Collyer and beauteous Roxanne put thru the paces. Object: perform stunts in the allotted time. Prizes: TV sets, other expensive merchandise. Write for tickets to the program, % CBS-TV, 485 Madison Ave., New York City. Show is viewed Saturdays on channel 4 at 6:30.

BIG PAYOFF—For men and boys only. Here's a chance to win gifts for "the favorite woman in your life." Quiz handled by Randy Merriman and the former Miss America, Bess Myerson. Prizes include such femme luxuries as mink coats and Paris trips. Write to the program at NBC-TV, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, N.Y.C., stating why your favorite gal is the woman of your choice. If chosen, you'll appear in her behalf. Show is seen on channel 5, Mon. thru Fri. at 2 p.m. During the Summer it will be seen on the same channel, Sundays at 7:00 p.m.

BREAK THE BANK—Billed the "biggest money paying quiz show on the air," it is. Emceed by Bert Parks with an assist from Bud Collyer. Strictly cash prizes. Contestants average over $200 winnings. Series of questions, progressively harder, work up to the "Bank." Jackpots usually run into four figures. Contestants chosen from studio audience. Write for tickets to the program, % CBS-TV, 485 Madison Ave., N.Y.C. Show is seen Sundays at 8:30 on channel 4.

IT'S NEWS TO ME—Current events quiz

COLLECT MONEY

emceed by John Daly. Professional panel is posed with hints about a news story. Contestant (chosen from studio audience) begins with $20, tries to work that amount up by guessing if panelists' answers are correct or not. Chance to win $40 tops. Write for tickets to the program, % CBS-TV, 485 Madison Ave., N.Y.C. Show seen Friday at 8:30 p.m. on channel 4.

DOWN YOU GO—From Chicago. Emceed by Prof. Bergen Evans of Northwestern University. Strictly a panel quiz, but subjects sent in by viewing audience merit an Atlas (if subject is used) or a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica (if missed). Any familiar phrase, saying, quotation or the like is suitable. Mail entries to the program, % WGN-TV, Tribune Square, Chicago, Ill. Show is seen Friday, channel 9 at 8:00 p.m.

KIDS KARNIVAL KWIZ—Here's a local show on channel 4 that's just for the kiddies.

If a youngster would like to be called by Natco the clown and win some prizes, have him write the program (stating name, address and phone number) % WBKB, State-Lake Bldg., Chicago. Natco chooses a few letters to be called each day with questions based on some old time movies for the moppets. Awards for the right answers. Show is seen each week day at 5:00.

MOVIE QUICK QUIZ—A new, quizzier with Howard Miller doing the honors from Chicago. Contact is by telephone only with names picked at random from the phone book. Questions (on the tough side) are asked, filmed clues help. Prizes are U.S. Defense Bonds. Total pyramids if questions are missed. Seen Mon. thru Fri. on channel 9 at 5.45.

NAME'S THE SAME—This show is a long shot for most. As the title indicates, contestants must have the same monicker as a famous person. If your name happens to be Rudolph Valentino or Clark Gable or George Washington, etc., you might be able to appear as a guest. Write the program % ABC-TV, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, N.Y.C. Show is viewed on channel 7, Wednesday at 6:30.

PICTURE PAYDAY—You can win as a viewer or a contestant on this local quizzier. Choose a picture (not more than 2 weeks old) from the Chicago Tribune. Describe it. Indicate the page, section and date of the paper. Write one question about the picture. If yours is

BILL SNARY

IF you're in the mood for argument, just get started on popular music. The field is so hopelessly devoid of standards that the lofty opinions of critics have as much value as those of the neighborhood idiot. And the top selling records aren't bought by the critics.

The present chaotic condition of the music business has caused many a talented youngster to throw up his hands in despair and pursue some sane profession like shoe clerking. Not so a young Chicagoan named Bill Snary.

Bill has been laboring obscurely on various Chicago TV and radio shows for about three years. During this time he's received one favorable notice after another from the critics. Yet nothing seemed to happen. He was getting nowhere.

Then recently he found on his personal appearances that he was being swamped by bobbysoxers. The ecstatic youngsters have taken up the critics chant. His recent Mercury recording of "Tell Me Why" is moving fast over the counters and young Mr. Snary looks like a full-fledged success.

Right now Bill is featured on WGN-TV's tasty "This is Music," a show which takes no chances with Hit Parade songs. Instead it features nothing but fine old chestnuts along the Friml, Kern, Rodgers & Hammerstein lines. The music is dished up by first-rate Chicago singers Bruce Foote, Jacqueline James and Jackie Van along with Bill. Vastly underrated, "This is Music" compares favorably with the much bigger budgeted Fred Waring and Arthur Godfrey shows. A major part of the credit belongs to Mr. Snary.

Bill's singing is a compound of some of America's better baritones, with a vibrato that reminds of Billy Eckstine, and a fine masculine style that fortunately doesn't approach the absurd lengths of a Vaughn Monroe. He has no apparent neurosis and this relieves him of the responsibility of singing from the groin, a popular trick among some of our latest top singers.

Although coming from a musical family and with a smattering of musical education, he had no plans for a singing career. As a student at North Park College on Chicago's North Side, he was the burly athletic type, playing on the football, basketball and baseball teams, and devoting a little of his spare time to the job of diving for the swimming team.

It was at a college dance that Bill's destiny was determined. The band had turned up minus a singer and some of Bill's friends prodded him into singing a few numbers. Finding the response to his efforts pleasing, he decided to take the music business seriously.

He started out professionally with a spot on one of Eddie Hubbard's ill-fated TV shows. From this he landed parts on various other radio and TV shows around Chicago (Ransom Sherman, Music in Velvet, Music from Chicago and the Little Revue). He's been on several network radio shows and at present is on two radio shows from Chicago's WIND.

Bill's heavy duty singing chores via radio, TV and recording are supplemented by numerous charity performances. It's at these appearances that Bill has roused the juvenile passions.

Not all of Bill's sudden success can be attributed to his singing. His rugged good looks are worth a squeal from the bobbysoxers even if he never sang a note. Taking advantage of his looks, Bill has taken on the added chore of acting and has appeared on NBC's "Hawkins Falls." As a double-threat man he looks like a good possibility for Hollywood, a spot he has his eye on. 24 and unmarried, Bill looks like another hot Chicago prospect for long-range stardom.

—Robert Cuniff

Bill Snary is seen every week on "This is Music," seen Thursdays at 7 p.m. on channel 9 (WGN-TV).

SURPRISE!

A Critic LIKES

Something

by JACK MABLEY

To prove that TV critics (kibitzers) aren't all misanthropes, here's a whole page devoted to the topic of why I like:

Perry Como: He has such a good time singing.

Dolores Dragon: She is so much like my kids, or vice versa.

John P. Carmichael: He knows what he's talking about.

Johnny Coons: Though he is a bit loud for adults, he charms the youngsters even more than Howdy Doody, and he does it without resorting to the coarseness of the puppet from New York.

Linn Burton: I played in a ball game with Linn once, and he's a great fellow. I preserve my high regard for him by always turning to another channel when he comes on with his amazingly irritating commercials.

Austin Kiplinger: He knows what he's talking about.

when you go out. It's hard to rationalize.)

Stella Andrew: She demonstrated (in She Stoops to Conquer) that she is one of the most invigorating actresses in television.

Groucho: I'm not sure how much is spontaneous and how much is rehearsed, but it comes out the freshest wit on the air.

Dave Garraway: All the time he's in front of the camera on Today, we don't have to look at Mr. Fleming and Mr. Lescoullie, who read news. Dave's also a personable man who'll eventually get back to emceeing intelligent nighttime shows.

Dinah Shore: (see Perry Como).

Jack Webb: His Dragnet shows crime and police work as they really are, without hokum. Now if they'd just stop whispering. . . .

Jerome Thor: In case you don't recognize the name, he's the star of Foreign Intrigue, one of the neatest half-hour packages of excitement on the air. A lot of movement, restrained acting, and authentic settings make it tops.

Donald O'Connor: In spite of insipid material, his great showmanship comes through. He should be around show business as long as Ed Wynn, and maybe after 50 years he'll get some material as good as Wynn's.

Scampy the Clown: He's the boss' son and a star of the highest rated show in daytime TV, but Bardie Patton remains the most unspoiled youngster in television. (The kind that wouldn't even get an audition for Juvenile Jury).

Dr. Roy Marshall: Painless commercials.

Carmelita Pope: Of all the glamorous females sitting on quiz panels all over the ether, Chicago's queen on Down You Go is merely the prettiest and smartest. Another triumph for Chicago TV.

Tri-Star Theater: WENR-TV has broken the drought of Saturday evening song and dance with a triple feature movie. Even by TV old movie standards, one of the three should be worth watching.

Fatima Cigarettes: Now they have cancelled Stork Club a lot of viewers might try them.

"I thought we came to the movies to escape commercials."

The TRADE INN

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T SWAP AN ELEPHANT?

EVER since early American history when the French established trading posts in the backwoods, the swap bug has taken its toll of victims. Even the marble set falls prey to the insect's bite each spring as the moppets shrewdly screen each agate in a heated exchange.

On the adult level, everybody wants to get rid of a "white elephant." Recognizing this human weakness, WENR-TV brass whipped up a trading show. For six months "Trade Inn" has supplied the medium. The viewers provide the elephants.

Two fresh imports from Detroit, Pat Tobin and Todd Purse, co-emcee the bargain hunt with a circus side-show of attractions supporting the main event. There are customers; Buford, the invisible mailman who spills the letters each day; a cantankerous pot-bellied stove which explodes when it disapproves of anything, and an authentic antique-dealer who appraises each object.

In addition, there are contests. Two of them. Viewers are encouraged to contribute their thoughts (for prizes) on such insipid topics as "Why I Like My Husband," "My Oldest Bathing Suit," "What I Think Buford Looks Like," etc. Then there's an on-the-show bit in which Pat and Todd clue blindfolded contestants on the contents of mysterious packages.

"Trade Inn" has been the temporary home for an assortment of outcasts. Among its residents have been a stuffed alligator, a diaper washer, a bed warmer, countless antique clocks, a soup tureen over 100 years old, an antique dog statue over 150 years old and an endless procession of dishes. One man wanted to trade a trailer for a down payment on a small house near Gary, Ind. A clown came to Trade-Inn to advertise his services for children's birthday parties. And another job-seeker offered to remodel basements into recreation rooms.

Pat, one of the most streamlined models to leave the Motor City, was formerly a commentator, dramatic actress and interviewer on several radio programs there. Before teaming with Todd on "Trade-Inn" she served as hostess on a Chicago morning video program.

Todd, a boyish bachelor, has been blessed with a shy appearance and twin dimples which punctuate his cheeks. But he's no more sedate than a mischievous terrier. A World War II vet, he started out in industrial school but ended up in the army. Todd got his discharge papers and an emcee job in a Detroit radio station about the same time. Then TV tagged him and Chicago became his home.

Pat and Todd have modernized the bargainiers of the backwoods. Television trading has gone glamorous. TV's "Trade-Inn" abides by the current retail trend: "Give the customer what she wants!" Only time will tell if the program can give the televiewer what HE wants.

chosen, you'll win whatever the studio contestant fails to win in answering questions about your entry. Sound complicated? It isn't. Frank Sweeney is emcee. Show is seen each weekday on channel 9 at 10:00 a.m. Write entries or request for tickets to the program, % WGN-TV, Tribune Square, Chicago.

STRIKE IT RICH—Don't apply as contestant for this show unless your need for financial or other help is extreme. Letters from those who are physically handicapped or who have experienced tragedy are generally chosen. $500 is tops, but outside help from viewers (via the "heart line") usually amounts to more for the unfortunate. If unable to appear a "helping hand" celebrity will substitute. Warren Hull emcees. Write applications to be a contestant or for tickets to the program % CBS-TV, 485 Madison Ave., N.Y.C. Show is seen weekdays on channel 9 at 10:30 a.m. and each Wednesday night, channel 4 at 8:00.

YOU BET YOUR LIFE—This quiz vehicle for Groucho Marx is played strictly for laughs. But there's lots of cash to be won. Comes from Hollywood. Two contestants begin with $20 and can work that amount up to $320 with four correct answers. A big jackpot (the top winning couple gets the chance at it) runs up into the thousands. Some contestants chosen from studio audience. Others hunted up by Groucho's scouts for their unusual occupations or laugh-provoking personalities. Write for tickets to the program, % NBC-TV, Sunset & Vine, Hollywood, California.

WHAT'S MY LINE?—TV's most popular quiz show employs a panel to guess contestants' unusual occupations. If you feel you qualify write to the program % CBS-TV, 485 Madison Ave., N.Y.C. Important! TV FORECAST

Alphonse & Gaston Could Take Lessons

IF THE courteous ghost of Sir Walter Raleigh ever visited Chicagoland, it'd be a cinch to figure where he would spend most of his time—at practically any one of the local TV panel shows.

Because on these shows, COURTESY is not only a byword, it's built right into the format.

Nationwide, such gab sessions as "Meet The Press," "Keep Posted" and "Author Meets The Critics" grab off tremendous audiences and create a lot of excitement. On those programs, the panelists discard their kid gloves and slug it out with the guests.

But in the local arena, the moderators and newsmen treat their guests with such refinement that the shows could qualify as regular sessions of the Old Ladies' Sewing Circle. Which is dandy, just dandy, but not very newsworthy.

Take "Press Conference," for example. This is a WGN-TV creation moderated by Lee Schooler, a gentlemanly type of guy who treats everybody respectfully and never raises his voice. Maybe in deference to their host, the local reporters who appear on the panel seem to get just as quiet and courteous as Lee himself. It comes across smooth, but then, so does a bankers' conference.

City Desk was a WNBQ entry that was launched by Bill Ray, the station's news chief. Here is another assortment of deep thinkers who are no legitimate heirs to the rowdy "Front Page" tradition. When these journalists start knitting their brows, the atmosphere gets so quiet you can hear a wrinkle drop. And the boys really keep things humming.

Then over at WBKB, there was a strange little thing called "The Chicago

Forum of the Air." This was loaded, one hundred per cent, with labor leaders, union attorneys, New Deal officials and a sprinkling of "liberals" who staged what was laughingly called a forum discussion.

It's not the purpose of this publication to discourage local panel shows. The stations and sponsors who put them on should get a lot of credit. But the big question is—Do discussion shows, like education, have to be so dadblamed uninteresting?

It might be refreshing to see gentlemanly Lee Schooler take a punch at somebody's nose. Or maybe Bill Ray could manage a little table-pounding. How about fire crackers?

Anything to wake up the audience.

As for the Chicago newsmen that make up the panel—they should be ashamed of themselves for the season's outstanding display of drabness. If camouflage is their aim, they're pretty successful.

But it's pretty irritating to see the nation's toughest, most colorful, most capable reporters OFF camera, act like a collection of right fielders ON camera.

Dynamite, anyone?

Bill Ray . . . "You can hear a wrinkle drop."

DAGMAR

The Rise and Fall of Dagmar

TWO years ago an obscure but superbly endowed showgirl named Jenny Lewis got a hurry-up phone call from NBC and was told to report to a TV show called Broadway Open House. She arrived to find herself cast as a dumb blonde named Dagmar, a low comedy target for comic Jerry Lester's buffooneries.

A year later, Dagmar, the name Jenny Lewis discarded for good, was the favorite topical joke on TV. Her part on Broadway Open House grew from that of a band singer who never sang to a stature equal to that of top-billed Lester. She recited poetry in a manner that indicated that no one on earth could recite it worse. And her language-mangling technique matched that of a Durante.

Then the Dagmar business got out of hand. The famous old maxim "There'll always be an ad man" held true. The press agents descended and soon the name Dagmar ballooned all out of proportion to the talent it was attached to. The Broadway Open House closed with Jerry Lester all but forgotten. But Dagmar was one of the most sought-after chattels on TV.

Last fall the trouble began. Network execs, glad to have her under contract, couldn't find a show suitable to her talents (?). Aside from an occasional guest appearance Dagmar began to slip from the public's eye. Dagmar jokes became infrequent. When Dagmar's new show was finally launched no one seemed to care. On June 14 of this year, the show, "Dagmar's Canteen" will go off TV and the Dagmar legend may be near its climax.

As a variety show "Dagmar's Canteen" was fast-paced and mildly entertaining. Some of the old faces from Broadway Open House were present—Ray Malone, Milton Delugg. But it proved that Dagmar as a star in her own right, couldn't carry the ball.

Dagmar is the third name owned by the magnificent blonde from West Virginia. She was christened Virginia Ruth Egnor, but changed her name to Jenny Lewis when she cast her eye on Broadway's bright lights. The Dagmar tag was a Lester inspiration.

Good-natured and friendly, Dagmar should keep coining money for a few years just on her name's momentum. Her earnings thus far have enabled her to buy her family a home in Huntington, West Virginia and to set aside money enough to send some of her seven brothers through college. Married to capable actor Danny Dayton, she doesn't have too many financial problems. But at 24 years old it must seem strange to have most of her career behind her.

Dagmar's case is a simple one of a girl with meagre talents being shoved up the ladder by cheap publicity. She has more talent than harsh critics will admit, but less than the required minimum for a star. She definitely can't sing (although she tries), but her dancing is above par. Interviewing servicemen on Dagmar's Canteen, she revealed a pleasant informal charm. The cancellation of the show is just evidence of a nice kid who went in over her head.

"Dagmar's Canteen" was last seen on May 21 over WNBQ, channel 5.

LETTERS to the editor

The people who complain about Johnnie Ray's singing and say it's strictly for publicity don't understand a truly emotional boy. Probably just sour grapes from graybeard Toscanini fans. Chicago, Ill. L. D.

When Johnnie Ray is 80 years old he'll be crying in his beer because he'll have been forgotten. Toscanini is immortal. Chicago, Ill.

VERNA CLIFFORD

Chub McCarthy. . . . What he said about the White Sox is terrible. For this treason, he should be heaved out. Aurora, Ill. CAROL JONES

. . . As long as we're complaining about singers, how about Frankie Laine? He looks like a fugitive from a lost weekend. . . . Chicago, Ill. J. B.

Why don't they have the Eastside Kids on when children can see it. They're usually on when I'm at school or when I'm in bed. It's not fair. LaPorte, Ind. DOUGLAS KOEHN

I've just read that Eve Arden is to be on at the same time as Lucy. I hope this is wrong because I love both Eve Arden and Lucille Ball. Kenosha, Wisc. JANETTE KING

(Ed. Note: Present CBS plans have the two shows following one another, starting next fall.)

. . . I watched the movie "Red Stallion" last evening and was sorely disappointed that my children missed it. When they are watching TV early in the evening there's nothing but gangland murders and blood-and-thunder on. It's a shame as they need wholesome entertainment. . . . Chicago, Ill. LORRAINE CONLEY

The reason Chicago TV is losing out is because of its long boring commercials. Kankakee, Ill. DUANE MCCAWLEY

I Love Lucy is so great that it should be on for an hour. It's much better than anything else on TV. Valparaiso, Ind. WAYNE HERMANN

Three cheers for the show "Press Conference." . . . The tempo is fast moving; the reporters and guests are right on the ball and the topics are timely. Chicago, Ill. BEEBE KLIPP

CHICAGO—The battle of Chicago stations for the big audience of this area brings out some pretty cute maneuvers. The latest switch is WBKB's re-slotting of its late evening time. Newscaster Ulmer Turner moves to 10 p.m., followed by sportscaster Bob Elson at 10:15. They may cut some of WNBQ's healthy ratings by giving news and sports results AHEAD of Clifton Utley and Tom Duggan.

CORDELL

Comic Bill Balance, one of TV's genuine funnymen, has moved temporarily back to Denver, to take care of his kids while his wife goes to the Coast to look after her failing mother. . . . "Creative Cookery" celebrated its first birthday June 3 with a luncheon party at Kungsholm restaurant, hosted by "Cookery" star Francois Pope. The show has consistently been sold out to sponsors since its start. It's pulled over 150,000 pieces of mail.

Wonder what happened to singer Jean Cordell? She's now doing very well at WTMJ-TV in Milwaukee, appearing with Tom Mercein on "Doing The Town" on Friday nights, and also with the Grenadiers quartet on Sundays. . . . Jerry Allan, who lined up pretty misses for the last "Miss U.S. Television" contest, has branched out with his own local show on an Indianapolis station.

"Down You Go," the brilliant quiz session on channel 9, is another first birthday celebrant. The cast recalls the rare time moderator Bergen Evans got his words mixed, and instead of the customary prizes, offered a panel member to the viewers. A male fan promptly wrote in a claim for lively Toni Gilman.

New fan club for emcee Howard Miller by Alize Buza of 8710 Muskegon Avenue.

The recent shift of Kay Westfall and Bob Murphy to the 11-12 noon time period will bring some necessary cutbacks in the livestock. Bob & Kay's parrot and parakeet will remain, but the rabbits and mice will depart. Another casualty is the "daily mail" session. One thing won't change—the cheerful friendliness that has always sparked the "Bob & Kay" program.

Buelah Witch, "Kukla Fran & Ollie's" answer to the jet age, has paused in flight momentarily to accept an award as "Miss Sweet Gherkin" of 1952 in honor of Pickle Week.

Continuing our thumbnail sketches of Forecast publishers — Roy V. Whiting. Age 34. Attended Ravenswood grade school and Lakeview High school. Served 39 months as 1st Lt. and Bombardier with U.S. Army Air Force during World War II. Flew 50 missions in Italy. One time in action over Vienna tried to push igniting bombs out bomb bay door, fell out, but boot hooked in door and he dangled in space until pulled back by gunner. Just as he reached safety, boot came loose and fell.

Before joining Forecast, was national representative for General Outdoor Advertising for 4 years. Married Betty Kluge of Chicago in 1940. Two children — Roy Jr. and Bobbie Lee.

See "Backstage Diary," Tuesday & Thursday at 4:45 p.m. on channel 4 (WBKB).

EXPERTS PICK THE CANDIDATES

WITH the hot national conventions just a month away, we've put Chicago's top TV newscasters on the spot. We've asked them to predict the Democratic and Republican choices for President and Vice-President. Here are their picks.

SPENCER ALLEN

Republican — Eisenhower for President. Warren for Vice-President.

Democrat — Kefauver for President. McMahon for Vice-President.

ALEX DREIER

No choices. Too early to tell.

PAUL HARVEY

Republican — Taft for President. Longshot possibility that Democrats will then pick Eisenhower. No choices for Vice-President.

ROBERT HURLEIGH

Republican — Taft for President.

Democrat — Truman for President. No choices for Vice-President.

AUSTIN KIPLINGER

Republican — Standoff between Eisenhower and Taft with darkhorse getting Republican nomination for President.

Democrat — Compromise candidate after split in party over Kefauver versus Stevenson. No choices for Vice-President.

FRANK REYNOLDS

Republican — Eisenhower for President. Warren for Vice-President.

Democrat — Stevenson for President. Harriman for Vice-President.

ULMER TURNER

Republican — Taft for President. No choice for Vice-President.

Democrat — Kefauver for President. No Choice for Vice-President.

CLIFTON UTLEY

Republican — Eisenhower
Democrat — Kefauver
Mr. Utley qualifies this by saying that if Taft gets Republican nomination then Democrats will nominate Stevenson. No choice for Vice-President, but would like to see Ralph Bunche nominated.

The consensus of opinion is split down the middle between Taft and Eisenhower for the Republican nomination with Kefauver the popular choice for the Democrats.

TV FORECAST

DEAR BOSS:

Now that Bob & Ray have won the Peabody Award and Life Magazine spreads and lost their TV show, I'm pinning my hopes for a fresh batch of original humor on Wally Cox and Roger Price.

Speaking of the need for a fresh slant, Dragnet is really starting to drag bottom. As I listen to that Poll Parrot dialogue week after week I start to feel like a pearl bead stringer at Tiffany's. Row after row of perfectly shaped, uniformly lustrous gems passing before my eyes hour after hour, day after day... gradually I develop a wild, unreasoned yen...I stand up and shout, "Just once, please, just once—a square pearl!" Once, just once, lemme hear a Dragnet character who stutters or lisps or rants or laughs or cries or just plain falls asleep in the middle of a Joe Friday quiz session!

NEWCOMER COX

I got a jolt the other night. I dimly heard the TV set tell me that Bud Hauser, the Nash man, was on the air. Used car commercials, I muttered to myself. Then a few minutes later I glanced at the screen and got the shock of my life. It didn't make sense. Bud must have gone mad. There, right in front of my eyes was the most terrifying jumble of beat-up used cars ever offered to a gullible public.

Fortunately for my sanity, my eight-year-old explained that I was watching the Stock Car Races from 87th Street Speedway sponsored by Hauser Nash. When the real commercials came on I swear I've never seen such shining beauties. And the drivers were ever so cautious. Never butted Bud once. Quite a let-down, actually. I was all set for a sensational, slambang commercial like "Nashes to Nashes and Dust to Dust."

THE TROUBLES OF RED SKELTON

NEXT WEEK—Has Red Skelton hit the peak of his popularity? Or has Red started skidding because of his constant portrayals of drunks? Watch for a lively analysis of "The Troubles of Red Skelton."

NEXT WEEK—Who is No. 3 in the top five girl vocalists? Last week, our Music Editor picked No. 5. This week, you've met No. 4. You'll meet No. 3 next week. You may not agree, but you'll find it stimulating.

PLUS—a provocative critique on TV's newest star, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, the man who tumbled Milton Berle's rating. . . Complete details and entry blanks in the Miss Video Venus search of 1952, a contest open to all young ladies in the Chicagoland area. Reserve your copy of TV Forecast at the newsstand now.

2nd Annual TV Celebri-Tee Golf Tourney, June 27th

ED PAZDUR

Sports Editor

IT happens only once a year. The one time local TV stars gather socially and informally to chat and get acquainted. . . . It's the one opportunity to relax off camera, meet their fans, play golf and lunch as guests of TV Forecast. . . . TV cameramen, directors, crewmen, producers, etc., of all four Chicago stations converge for annual pow-wows. . . . You won't want to miss this great assembly at TV Forecast's 2nd Annual TV Celebri-Tee Golf Tourney, Friday, June 27 at Bunker Hill, 6635 N. Milwaukee Ave., in Chicago. . . . Defending 1951 champions are WBKB's athletic tenor Danny O'Neil and the beauteous Kay Morrow. . . . The public is invited free.

Breaking last year's precedent, radio talent will be invited. Expected to compete are radio sportscasters, disk jockeys, newscasters, and all of the Windy City's columnists and TV-radio critics. . . . Watch for details in subsequent issues of TV Forecast.

Boxing: Here's why New York's Boxing Commissioner Robert Christenberry is bellowing at the International Boxing Club for New York City's loss of boxing prestige. A summer program of 14 telecasts of major fights, which will enable the Wednesday night fight series to continue uninterrupted, are scheduled to originate from the Chicago Stadium. . . . All but two contests will emanate from Chicago. One on June 11, a return match between Chico Vejar and Chuck Davey will take place in the Detroit Olympia. . . . New York City will host only one fight in Madison Square Garden on August 27th. . . . Eighteen bouts were originally scheduled but two dates had to be cancelled out because of the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

Cuffnotes: WENR-TV's armed forces boxing show "Meet The Champ" goes off the air following its June 26th telecast. Wayne Griffin, the descriptive and wry wrestling gabber, was voted by Philadelphia's sports fans as their favorite sports commentator. Wayne won over Jimmy Powers and Bill Stern.

Free Ducats: If you're a wrestling fan and would like to see Rainbo wrestling matches (WENR-TV) from free ring-side seats, just drop us a line.

DEAN & JERRY—Hazards on wheels . . .

Following the Roller Derby's heated World Series in the Chicago Coliseum last week, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis thought they'd give the sport a whirl. In their initial attempt, the boys went sprawling in the dressing room with their two attractive tutors. . . . Tangled on the floor are (l. to r.) Barbara Mateer, Jerry Lewis, Dean Martin and Virginia Rushing.

NEXT WEEK: Would you like to meet your favorite local TV star in person? . . . Be sure to read about TV Forecast's 2nd annual TV Celebri-Tee Golf Tourney at Bunker Hill, June 27.

Ed.'s note: Wayne Griffin, a pudgy and colorful sportscaster, rose to fame as the nation's leading wrestling announcer through his witty and critical commentary every Wednesday night over the ABC-TV network from Rainbo. As a rule, wrestlers are temperamental obnoxious and egocentric. But the most colorful of all, claims Griff, are the wrestling fans themselves. Writing exclusively for TV Forecast, Griffin attempts to prove his point.

ABOUT a month ago, some kind soul in Pittsburgh "whopped" me in the face with a banana cream pie during a TV marathon program which raised needed dollars for the March of Dimes. A week later, a wrestling fan told me that her cat, watching the proceedings at home, had crawled up to the TV screen and tried to lick the pie from my face.

Well, the cat got no pie but the episode proved again what a close link a wrestling commentator has with his viewers. We can't literally reach out with our hands over the electronic miles, but we can do it several different ways. I've spent a lot of time in radio before TV and I'm continually amazed by the intimacy generated between the announcer and his viewing audience.

Along the same line, it's surprising how many personal letters I have received that are in no way connected with my Rainbo Wrestling telecasts. Letters seeking information top the list. People write to ask: How long is the outer drive? How far is the airport from Rainbo? Or, who's the guy sitting in the third row from the left?—I think it's my long lost brother, etc.

An Ohio fan asked me to give him the Chicago weather picture every Wednesday night. "Tell us what the weather is like," he wrote, "because we usually get the same the next day." One night I forgot to mention a snowstorm we were having and you should have read the icy letter I received several days later.

Wrestling Fans

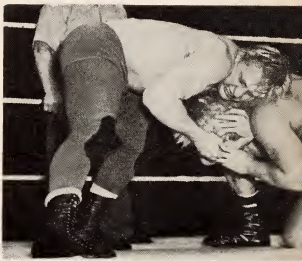

Some requests require hard work. Like the one I'm tackling now. Three Navy vets from Philadelphia recently wrote asking if I could locate one of their buddies in Chicago. He's in the dry cleaning business, they said, and would I find him and interview him some night. Their reason? Well, it seems he started losing hair in the Navy and they want to find out whether or not he's bald by now! . . . If you know any bald-headed dry cleaning drivers, have them write me.

Things really swung into high gear last spring when a woman wrote asking me to do some shopping for her husband's birthday. Well, I did the shopping . . . All of her friends seemed to like the idea and it wasn't long before Mrs. Griffin and I were both crying "uncle."

I've been asked to aid in locating lost relatives and lost dogs. I've sent birthday and anniversary greetings. I guess I've been asked to do just about everything and yet the morning mail always brings something new and unique.

Confidentially, there's only one request I absolutely refused to carry out. It was from a fan out East who penned a long post card with a very simple notation—"Drop Dead."

Wayne Griffin can be seen every Wednesday night over WENR-TV, 10:00-11:00 p.m. on his Wrestling from Rainbo show.

COPYRIGHT 1952

Here's an exciting new contest you can enter right now! And wonderful prizes are waiting for you if you win!

You have all enjoyed TV's "Zooparade," of course, so this contest should be easy for you. You will be given clues to help you identify the two animals pictured on this page. Additional clues will be given on "Zooparade." All you have to do is name these animals (on separate paper) and write a short note or letter telling us why you would like to own a pet.

First prize will be a colorful parakeet, complete with cage and food. Second prize will be a large aquarium with fish. In addition, winners will be photographed with Marlin Perkins. The picture will appear in TV Forecast.

I am found in Guatemala. I am a member of the raccoon family. My tail is as long as my head and body combined. I have a pale yellowish brown, short woolly fur. I am the size of an ordinary house cat. I eat at night. My name begins with "K" and has eight letters. Who am I?

I am found in Central America. I am the largest member of the cat family in America. My spots are "rosette" shaped and larger than a leopard's. I am six feet in length. My tail is $\frac{1}{3}$ of this length. I am an expert climber and a very good swimmer. My name begins with "J" and has six letters. Who am I?

Mail your answers and letters to Mollycues, % TV Forecast, 185 N. Wabash Avenue, Chicago 1, Ill., before Monday, June 16. In cases of ties, winners will be judged on neatness and originality. Answers will appear here next week.

ROY STARKEY'S

Silhouettes of the West

Many years ago in the Sacramento valley of California, a roving cowboy rode up to a ranch and asked for a job. The owner told him he wasn't hiring anyone, because Indians were stealing so much of his livestock that he was going broke.

The cowboy thanked him and rode away. About four hours later, while riding up a place known as Deer Creek Canyon, this wandering cowpoke unexpectedly came upon an Indian camp. Believing them to be the Indian raiders who were causing so much trouble, he hurried back to the rancher.

A posse returned to the hidden camp, and after a bitter fight, wiped it out. At least, they thought they did. But unknown to the ranchers, five of the Indians managed to escape—two Indian braves, two squaws, and one little Indian boy.

Forty three years passed. Then a party of government surveyors stumbled upon an Indian camp. They could tell the campers had avoided all contact with the outside world, because all of the tools found were made of stone. Fresh food was found stored away, showing that the camp was being used, but though they waited several days, nobody showed up. So the surveyors went away.

Three more years passed. One night a rancher stopped at a line cabin. As he rode up, his horse shied back, almost throwing him. Quieting the animal and drawing his gun, he entered and found an Indian crouched in a far corner of the cabin. Prodding him with his gun, he forced the Indian outside and tried to question him, but found he couldn't talk except by sign language.

Actually, he was the little Indian boy who had gotten away years before when the white men raided the Indian camp. His parents and the others had died years ago, but he had managed to live and avoid the white man.

The last survivor of a tribe of wild Indians who had lived a Stone Age existence, just sixty miles from civilization. Five years after his capture he died—the last wild Indian in the United States.

Roy Starkey's "Silhouettes of the West" is seen Monday thru Friday at 5:30 p.m. on channel 4 (WBKB).

Uncle Herbie

Here is good news for you boys and girls. Now you can join the Mr. Wizard Club, started by Don Herbert on his channel 5 show. Here is Don showing Bruce Lindgren an official charter and a membership card.

If you become a member, you will each get a charter and a membership card. Then, each month, you'll receive a letter giving instructions for two exciting experiments.

All you have to do is tune in Mr. Wizard on Saturday at 6 p.m. and listen for directions on how to join. THIS WEEK'S CONTEST—Who can make the best ink blot picture? All you have to do is put some ink drops in a paper, then fold it and squeeze. For first prize, I'll award $1; second prize 50 cents; next 15 prizes 25 cents each. Mail to Uncle Herbie, % TV Forecast, 185 N. Wabash avenue, Chicago 1, Ill. before Sunday, June 15.

My weekly winners are on Page 13.
