Every week I greatly enjoy the most frank remarks of Chub McCarthy but it is easy to see that he doesn't read Variety, the show biz trade paper. He remarked that he would like to see "You Are There" on TV. Over a month ago, Variety reported that CBS-TV will put this show on television, beginning in February (Sunday, 5 p.m.). . . .
Highland Park, Ill. HUGO SPENCER

Ed. Note: Chub's so busy watching TV, he hasn't time to read. Thanks for the good news.

I and many others I know don't think Red Skelton is spoiling his TV programs. Which would you rather have, Red or one of those shows where someone's always pointing a gun at you?
Aurora, Ill. HELEN SCOTT

Could you please tell me how many ice-skating shows Arthur Godfrey has had? My family and I have been arguing. They say he's had three and I think there has only been two.
South Bend, Ind. EILEEN THOMAS

Ed. Note: You lose. Arthur's latest was his third.

It's a shame that Jane Froman's USA Canteen isn't on an hour. She does a lot to help the boys overseas. She puts everything she has into her songs. . . .
Chicago, Ill. BARBARA FLEISCHMAN

I think it's terrible the way they interrupted the movie the other night just to have a news flash about the fire. We missed part of the movie because of it. If we were interested in fires we'd listen to Clint Youle. . . .
Chicago, Ill. CHICK KUTSCHEROUSKY

Ed. Note: Now Clint is predicting fires?

How glad we are that the wonderful program "This Is The Life" has been changed to 7:30 Saturday evening. Now the children too can enjoy our weekly visit with "Our friends the Fishers" before going to bed.
Chicago, Ill. LOIS YARMARK

The women in this vicinity are very anxious to have Paul Fogarty return to TV. We miss that man and his wonderful exercise program.
McHenry, Ill. HARRIET FERNSTROM

Ed. Note: We're feeling kinda flabby ourselves.

Where are all the salesclerks?

In many stores where you shop today, you wait on yourself, make your own selections, and never see a salesclerk! Or do you?

What about the brand names on the packages? In some ways, they're probably the world's most efficient salesclerks. The better you know them, the more they tell you about what you're buying.

They tell you the maker's name, and often his reputation. They tell you whether you've bought the product before, and whether it gave you satisfaction. Without brand names, you couldn't possibly serve yourself so quickly, so surely, and so satisfactorily.

And the makers, knowing we have our choice of so many excellent brands, such as those advertised in this magazine, constantly compete to offer us newer, better products and values. So name your brand—and better your brand of living!

COAST . . . TO . . . COAST
with Marty O'Shaughnessy

WHETHER Dean Martin & Jerry Lewis will finish out their year's TV contract has become a puzzle. The top-rated comics are pleading that overwork is hurting their act. Keeping in mind that nite club work, theater dates and a movie schedule are piled on top of their video appearances, it's easy to agree. But the real reason behind their TV reluctance hasn't been publicized. It's this—you have to keep coming up with a fresh act for TV fans every time. You can keep changing nite club and theater audiences. You can always get a different movie plot. But you can't keep changing TV audiences, who have awfully long memories.

Quote of the Week—by Robert Cummings, hero of "My Hero" TV show. When a deputy sheriff tried to serve Cummings with a subpoena, the actor threw his car in gear and dragged the deputy down the street. Said Cummings: "I thought he was an autograph seeker." . . . Vivian Blaine, who departed "Those Two" some time back, may return in a new TV series based on the Women's Army Corps, with comic Phil Foster co-starring. . . . A "Colonel Humphrey Flack" series also in the works, with actor Alan Mowbray. It's taken from the Satevepost stories. . . . Add patriotic note—the number of Hollywood stars who are skipping to Europe for 18 month stretches to avoid paying heavy taxes. . . . They're calling ABC the "sweetest" network now, with all the candy manufacturers sponsoring shows there. Included are Tootsie Rolls (TV Teen Club), Mars (Super Circus), Johnson's Candy (Rootie Kazootie) and Chuckles (Hail The Champ).

"Show of Shows" vocalist Bill Hayes has been inked for a musical stage show being assembled by Rodgers & Hammerstein. He'll stay with Caesar & Coca until mid-March before entering rehearsals. . . . Question—Jackie Gleason has assembled some of the loveliest girls in TV for his chorus line. They're the celebrated June Taylor dancers. Why doesn't Jackie give the audience a look at them? These leggy beauties are on camera so briefly, and at such a distance, Jackie could well save money by employing marionettes for the same routine. . . . Quotable Quote—Warren Hull says: "On 'Strike It Rich,' the wear and tear on my emotions is something to reckon with. Every day Sue, my wife, sits in front of our set at home, wondering what will crack my emotional shell this time."

TV writer Patsy Dollahan in Europe, covering femme fashions in Paris, London and the Riviera for her 1953 sponsors. . . . Actor Paul Barnes, the "man of 1,000 voices" claims that black cats aren't necessarily unlucky. "It all depends," says Paul, "on whether you're a man or a mouse." . . . Cooking ace Beulah Karney's mimeographed recipe bulletin now up to 23,000 copies every month. It's a three-week job for hubby Bill Powers to turn out each issue.

Like children? Then don't fail to tune in WNBQ'S Jan. 10th Boys Club Telethon from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m. Top columnists Irv Kupcinet and Tony Weitzel will co-emcee a flock of major talent of stage, screen & TV. It's for the benefit of 14 Chicagoland Boys Clubs, a truly worthy cause.

TOP FAVORITE

Arthur Godfrey

It's a clean sweep for King Arthur and his loyal crew as they score a smashing victory over the pre-poll favorite "I Love Lucy". Arthur won by a narrow margin, but enough to indicate that his wide appeal to the average American family is larger than even his press-agents imagine.

Second Place: I Love Lucy. Third Place: Show of Shows.

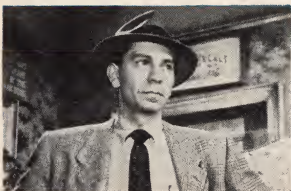

MALE SINGER

Perry Como

What did you expect? Mr. Relaxed just goes on and on winning these awards and nobody's complaining. The ease with which Perry won indicates that while there may be a temporary popularity for sensational singers like Johnnie Ray, sincerity still wins out.

2nd F. Parker; 3rd J. LaRosa.

MYSTERY SHOW

Dragnet

Dragnet has justified all the predictions made for it when it first came on TV about a year ago. It was the overwhelming choice among the fans for TV's number one mystery show. Irony and realism have made Jack Webb's opus about cops a TV standout.

2nd: Racket Squad; 3rd: The Web.

Meet The CHAMPIONS

KIDS SHOW

Kukla, Fran and Ollie

This wonderful children's fantasy that seems to have as many fans among the older population as among the kids has been a favorite in Forecast Award polls since the beginning. Burr Tillstrom, one of TV's acknowledged geniuses, has created a puppet world that beats anything that humans inhabit. KFO ran away with the Kids Show award. 2nd: Howdy Doody; 3rd: Super Circus.

EMCEE - ANNOUNCER

Arthur Godfrey

Three or four years ago all the prophets were predicting the imminent downfall of Arthur Godfrey. They didn't realize the grip Arthur has on the public pulse. From his corny jokes to his guitar-strumming to his low-pressure commercials, Arthur can't be beat. Second Place: Garry Moore. Third Place: Bert Parks.

COMEDIANS

Martin & Lewis

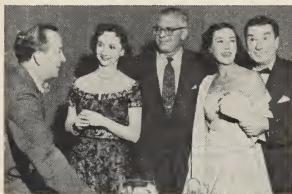

The uninhibited zanies remain as the hottest, most sought-after performers in show business. Although the boys command any price they want for an engagement, they claim they're just beginning to get into the financial "black." Their fandom is TV's most rabid. 2nd: Jackie Gleason. 3rd: Caesar and Coca.

QUIZ SHOW

What's My Line?

Although pressed more this year, this Goodson-Todman brainchild is still the fans' favorite. Regular panelists Dorothy Kilgallen, Bennett Cerf, Arlene Francis & Hal Block plus emcee John Daly make this a diverting quizzer.

Second Place: You Bet Your Life.
Third Place: Strike It Rich.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

Fred Waring

The choral genius of the hard-working Waring ensemble has assured a great audience for this well-produced musical show. Fred is used to being on top of the heap, having conducted for over thirty years with amazing success. Your Hit Parade was a very close second.

Third Place: Voice of Firestone.

SITUATION COMEDY

I Love Lucy

There's little doubt that I Love Lucy is the show chiefly responsible for the current TV trends towards filmed shows and situation comedies. Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz and their zany neighbors, William Frawley and Vivian Vance made this a runaway.

2nd: Our Miss Brooks; 3rd: Ozzie & Harriet

DISCUSSION AND EDUCATIONAL

Meet the Press

The combination of top drawer national figures and the brilliant grilling of Lawrence Spivak made Meet the Press the most important forum for breaking big news on TV.

Second Place: Bishop Sheen. Third Place: Zooparade.

Awards

VARIETY PROGRAM

Arthur Godfrey

Innovations, such as the three ice-skating extravaganzas plus the Parker-Marlowe romancing, the Janette Davis jump singing and the interesting new singer Julius LaRosa kept the fans loyal to TV's phenomenon—Arthur Godfrey.

2nd: Show of Shows; 3rd: Garry Moore.

DRAMA

Robert Montgomery

A driving finish won out for Bob Montgomery's longtime TV favorite. It was a neck and neck battle all the way with Montgomery's late strength edging out the perennial powerhouse, Studio One. Despite some weak scripting the series' overall quality was the dominant factor in the fans' vote.

2nd: Studio One. 3rd: Kraft Theater.

SPORTSCASTER

Jack Brickhouse

Again, as last year, Jack Brickhouse reigns as king of the network sportscasters. Jack's overall excellence in special events as well as his weekly wrestling telecasts proved a strong factor in capturing fan votes over his closest competitor, Bill Stern. Second Place: Bill Stern. Third Place: Jimmy Powers.

FEMALE SINGER

Dinah Shore

The trend was there last year, but Dinah came on TV too late to win the Awards Poll. This year Dinah came into her own. Here's one winner the fans and the critics can really agree on. Dinah's 15-minute show is TV's easiest listening.

TV's

Second

by THOMAS O'MALLEY & ROBERT CUNNIFF

IN the parlance of burlesque, Top Banana is the name given to the number-one comedian in the show. But practically all Top Bananas surround themselves with stooges and straightmen called, logically enough, Second Bananas. Television has proved to be a happy hunting ground for Second Bananas.

Probably the most famous TV stooge is Jackie Gleason's sidekick, Art Carney. The word "stooge" isn't really a perfect word in Art's case as the fellow is a top drawer comic in his own right. Although playing Second Banana to the rollicking Gleason, Art frequently draws applause from the studio audience when he makes an entrance disguised in any of his famous characterizations—from the timid Clem Finch, victim of the notorious Loudmouth to the brash upstairs neighbor of the Honeymooners, Ed Norton.

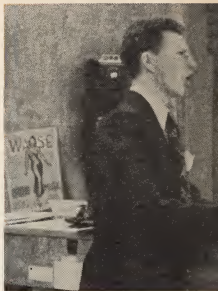

Art is used to playing second fiddle. He has clowned in the finest tradition of the always-reliable "best man" for Milton Berle, Henry Morgan and Morey Amsterdam, among others. Only 33, he specializes in playing older roles. TV viewers know him as the dignified father of playboy Reggie Van Gleason III and on radio he was heard as the sire for no less an oldster than Monte Woolley in "The Magnificent Montague."

Caesar's Reiner

Gleason's Carney

The Clem Finch bit is considered Art's most popular stint. Buffeted around by the obnoxious Loudmouth Charlie Bratton, the milquetoast Clem is always the loser. Consider the case of the rare coin which came into Clem's possession. After taking "advice" from the Loudmouth on how much money he could get for the valuable coin, the bumptious Bratton ends up dropping it into the pay telephone while poor Clem sits by helplessly.

Eddie Jackson would certainly qualify as one of the ripest of the second bananas. During the hectic 1920's, the team of Clayton, Jackson and Durante was just about the most beloved in all show business. In those days, Schnozzola Durante was slaying 'em with his wild poetry while Clayton handled the slick dancing chores and Jackson chimed in with spirited coon-shouting and high-stepping cake walking. But the act broke up when Clayton died and Durante went on to fame as a single.

What is not so well known is that during the years when Eddie Jackson was out of the spotlight he continued on as the Schnoz' ever-present pal, confidante and poker companion. Durante, conceded to be the fastest man with a buck in all show business, paid Jackson a salary during those lean years just to keep great friend Eddie around him. In this case, Durante's expenditures proved to be a sound investment.

When the Schnozzola landed on TV, his sensational debut was universally hailed. And one of the greatest things on his opening show (and every one since then) has been the closing act featuring Eddie and Jimmy—just like it used to be back in the 20's. Jimmy bangs the Steinway, Eddie struts. They both sing, harass the orchestra, break the piano, howl at each other, shout atrocious lyrics and in general provide the most chaotic—and wonderful—entertainment in all television.

When Milton Berle threw out his old slap-'em-around format this season, he inherited a miniature Second Banana in the person of tiny Ruthie Gilbert. Not five feet tall and under a hundred pounds, Ruthie plays the ever-loving secretary Maxine who spends all her waking hours in pursuit of her boss, Uncle Miltie. The scripters, who are making Berle a more lovable character this year, have seen to it that Miltie doesn't fall for Maxine's blandishments. The resulting by-play of a girl obsessed with the Leap Year spirit chasing an

OHIO STATE VS NORTHWESTERN

RACCOONS, DOGS CUFFLINKS, ETC.

by WM. A QUE

DID I EVER tell you—that Roy Rogers, heard Thursdays at 7:00 P.M. on WMAQ Radio, has a private menagerie including 16 dogs (a setter, a pointer, an English setter, two German shepherds, several hunting hounds), a pair of raccoons, hamsters, a pony, racing pigeons and, of course, the horse Trigger?

Taylor

That homemaker Mary Lee Taylor (Saturdays, 9:30 A.M.) is married to Herbert Cost, assistant general manager of Wired Music, Inc., distributor of "Muzak"?

Foley

That Reynolds Metals Company, the sponsor of Fibber McGee & Molly (Tuesdays, 8:30 P. M.), was founded in 1919 by Richard Samuel Reynolds, nephew of R. J. Reynolds who started Camel cigarettes?

That Ralph Edwards, zany emcee of Truth or Consequences (Thursdays, 8:00 P.M.) has probably one of the rarest hobbies in all Hollywood—collecting cuff links (he has more than 1,000 of various sizes, shapes and colors)?

That Everett Mitchell, emcee of the National Farm & Home Hour (Saturdays, 12:00 Noon) is one-sixteenth part Indian?

That Red Foley, who appears on stage for his Grand Ole Opry broadcasts (Saturdays, 8:30 P.M.) in a plaid shirt, fancy riding pants, riding boots and a big white Stetson—yet by Opry standards is considered a conservative dresser?

That if you like this column, you should write me, in care of TV Forecast?—Adv.

Beulah Karney's favorite recipes

No. 6 in a series

"When I was Food Conservation Supervisor in Missouri, I toured the state every ten days. We had 123 canneries and put up 13 million cans of food!

"While on these tours, I stopped in a small town in Boone County where they served a special sweet-sour sauce with ham. After I tasted it, I 'borrowed' their recipe and now use Boone County Sauce with both fried ham and baked ham. Bet you'll like it, too."

BOONE COUNTY SAUCE

- 4 tbsps. ham drippings
- ½ cup vinegar
- 4 tbsps. water
- 4 tbsps. brown sugar
- 1 tsp. mustard
- 1 tsp. paprika
- few grains cayenne pepper
- ½ cup tart jelly

Heat ham drippings and add vinegar, water, brown sugar, mustard, paprika and pepper. Heat together, then add jelly and heat until jelly melts.

LOCAL TOP FAVORITE SHOW

Creative Cookery

The old master when it comes to those fancy recipes, Francois Pope came home an easy winner in this category, although he was outstripped by many network shows. Francois and his wife Antoinette run one of the world's most famous cooking schools and his show has a tremendous following among local housewives in search of new things to please their husbands' palates.

LOCAL SPORTSCASTER

Bob Elson

Bob Elson, one of the alltime greats when it comes to announcing baseball, was a breeze winner in the local category. Bob's following in Chicago is tremendous. His stimulating interviews are a major asset.

KIDS SHOW LOCAL AWARD

Ding Dong School

Here's a real sleeper. Starring Frances Horwich (Miss Frances to the kids), this show caused an immediate sensation with the housewives who found that the kids were so enraptured with this show that they managed to stay out of trouble for awhile. Miss Horwich, an Educational specialist and teacher at Roosevelt College seems to hypnotize the kiddies. Whatever she does, it's doing a big job for moppet education.

LOCAL NEWSCASTER

Ulmer Turner

The dean of Chicago newscasters, Ulmer has a reputation for being a fair, accurate analyst of the news. His biggest appeal lies in his ability to give local news a nice human twist.

1952
TV Forecast
Awards

NEWSCASTER

John Cameron Swayze

J. C. Swayze has been the kingpin of the TV network newscasters for several years. His show benefits from excellent usage of filmed news events.

Second Place: Douglas Edwards; Third Place: Ed Murrow.

LOCAL DISCUSSION AND EDUCATIONAL

Creative Cookery

Unassuming Mr. Pope and his two sons are responsible for some of the finest cooking in these parts and it shows up in this category where Francois was a complete runaway. He's a big favorite with the men too.

LOCAL EMCEE-ANNOUNCER

Ernie Simon

Ernie is so popular in so many ways around the Windy City that the winning of this award came as no surprise. Ernie's new show via WGN-TV has already made a big hit and he undoubtedly got a lot for his old curbstome show.

LOCAL FEMALE SINGER

Gloria Van

Gloria's sultry torching has brightened up numerous local musical shows. She is now seen frequently on Jim Moran's Courtesy Hour and can be heard frequently as a featured singer in local niteries.

LOCAL MALE SINGER

Danny O'Neil

Danny seems to be making a habit of copping TV Forecast trophies. He won the 1951 Forecast Golf Tourney and this is the second straight Awards Poll title for his singing which is one of the bright features of his early morning show.

Meet The Stars

Marilynn Lovell

Marilynn Lovell's TV career came as no surprise to her family. The Lovells were accustomed to the public eye. Her family's tradition in the entertainment field had been established by her mother, a Scottish concert artist, and an aunt and uncle who were featured members of a European opera company.

Marilynn debuted in America, though. Specifically, Kalamazoo, Mich., at the age of 6 when she warbled a few ditties. Six years later she joined up with a dance band, composed of a clarinet, saxophone & drums. According to Marilyn, the results were "pretty terrible. Even the drums were out of tune!"

During her high school and junior college era in Detroit, where she was born, Marilyn spread her non-scholastic time between modeling, commercial film dates, piano and vocal lessons and appearances on radio and TV.

The tall slim brunette came to Chicago originally to join the Wayne King TV show. She spent three years with that group before teaming up with Hugh Downs for "Coffee And," WNBQ's morning variety opus where she's featured vocalist and fashion-tip expert.

On the personal side, Marilyn is single, in her early twenties, and shares a career-girl apartment on Chicago's near north side.

SOME "SILLY" PREDICTIONS

by JACK MABLEY

It's a nice cold week in January, a time when television columnists get sillier than usual, so we're going to make some predictions for the year 1951.

Studio One will become the highest rated dramatic show on the air.

Chicago will starting building an educational station on Channel 11.

Berle will drop out of the Top Ten again.

Ken Murray will be smoking the same cigar and telling the same jokes to the same chorus girls when he gets back.

Dr. Fixum will make a bow and arrow out of a coat hanger, and will use it to shoot Dorsey Connors.

Jack Brickhouse will do the World Series again, from Yankee Stadium, naturally.

Those Two will finally expire. (We've been killing it off for a couple of years, but it doesn't want to die.)

Ding Dong School will get a sponsor.

Francois Pope will drop an egg on his vest.

The best variety acts on television will be sandwiched into Toast of the Town between Ed Sullivan's monologues.

Frank Parker and Marion Marlowe won't get married, but they'll keep on mooing at each other.

Clint Youle will get caught in the rain.

New and better feature films will be released for television by Hollywood.

WBBM will come on the air with a television station.

Bing Crosby will get a TV show.

Hans Schnabel will kick Ruffy Silverstein in the stomach.

The commercials on the feature films will get longer, and there will be a great revival of reading in Chicago living rooms.

Somebody will mail me this column next December.

Jack Webb's first right hand man, Barton Yarborough. His death resulted in a hurried search for another partner . . .

And chosen for the role was Barney Phillips portraying Sgt. Ed Jacobs, but the producers were not pleased. So . . .

Veteran actor Ben Alexander was picked to take over as co-prober with Joe Friday and the L. A. Police on "Dragnet."

JOE FRIDAY'S SERGEANTS

WHAT happens to Sergeant Joe Friday's sidekicks on the taut detective thriller, "Dragnet"?

In the space of just 14 months on television three actors have taken over the role of star Jack Webb's partner. Many viewers, baffled by the changes, are asking, "why?"

Barton Yarborough, the original Webb sidekick, met with an untimely death in December of 1951 as the result of a heart attack. He had completed only two episodes. "Dragnet's" production was thus temporarily halted. Hundreds of feet of film were scrapped and the hunt for another actor was on. Yarborough's unforgettable characterizations of the friendly Sgt. Ben Romero (which he also did on radio) was lost forever.

Webb, in search of another suitably soft-spoken actor to keep the realistic feeling of "Dragnet," finally chose Barney Phillips for the role. He was given the name of Sgt. Ed Jacobs and to all intents and purposes it appeared Barney was doing a good job. But the men behind the scenes felt that Phillips' portrayal of the sergeant was too close to the Friday role. The great voice similarity between the two iced the decision. Many viewers claimed they couldn't tell who was talking if they were to close their eyes and just listen to Webb and Phillips talk.

In an attempt to rid the show of a sameness of mood, Phillips was dropped and a third sergeant was chosen. The current partner for Friday is Officer Frank Smith played by Ben Alexander. As far as we can tell, Alexander will stick it out. But then, the ways of a television actor are always unsure. A good steady job in TV is harder to find than a buggy whip in Detroit.

"Dragnet" is seen Thursdays at 8:00 p.m. on channel 5, WNBQ.

SPORTSCAST

by ED PAZDUR

JACK BRICKHOUSE and Bob Elson, two household names in national and local sports circles, were again voted as the Windy City's top sportscasters in TV Forecaster's Fourth Annual Awards Poll. At the request of Chicago Unlimited (a non-profit organization interested in furthering local talent) most categories in the poll were broken into local and network classifications in order to help publicize local talent. On that basis, Elson was awarded his second consecutive local award and Brickhouse copped his fourth network trophy.

Elson's daily Manhattan show, televised locally over WBKB, pulled a heavy vote for the popular White Sox spokesman. Trailing from the outset, Elson romped into the lead over local sportscasters during the closing weeks to win by a comfortable margin.

Jack Brickhouse, WGN-TV's ace and Dumont network star, overcame all network sportscasters. His weekly wrestling shows from Marigold Gardens via the Dumont network in addition to such special assignments as the Rose Bowl and All-Star games merited Jack his latest laurel.

After an unhappy lay-off of four years, those spirited Chicago Black Hawks return to television next week, January 18. All remaining Sunday night home games will be telecast by WBKB (third periods only) with Joe Wilson and this columnist reporting. . . . For the convenience of video fans, a handy 32-page hockey booklet containing feature articles on the Hawks, plus pictures, and rosters is being made available—free. To get your copy, simply mail us your name and address.

Hawk Coach Sid Abel attributes the amazing surge of his charges to renewed vigor and team spirit. With the forwards hitting harder than ever—more penalties result. "In fact," said Abel, "we have already averaged 11.5 minutes per game in the box! They're not afraid to rough it up." . . . Another factor not to be overlooked is goalie Al Rollins. The former Toronto star provides the Hawks with a sound and steady defense. Last season, Rollins permitted only 2.2 goals to slide into his net per game.

On the hardcourt front, both the highly touted Illini and Northwestern's Wildcats return to video Monday, January 12 when Harry Combes' cagers attempt to obliterate their Minnesota nightmare at the expense of Northwestern. Following their encounter, the Illini and Wildcats will alternate for Monday night telecasts over WGN-TV (8:00 p.m.) on the following schedule:

Jan. 26: Northwestern vs. Ohio . . . Feb. 2, Northwestern vs. Minnesota . . . Feb. 16, Illinois vs. Purdue . . . Feb. 23, Illinois vs. Minnesota . . . March 2, Illinois vs. Michigan State . . . and March 9 Illinois vs. Northwestern.

This time you be the judge! Keep score with Jack Drees and sports editor Ed Pazdur every Monday night over WENR-TV, 9:00 p.m., on Pontiac's Boxing From Rainbo show.

Knight

by SHIRLEY ELMAN

AN old English ballad tells an heroic tale of "days of old when knights were bold." Not so heroic is a tale spun each Friday night by TV minstrel Dennis Day, whose only connection with knighthood is his penchant for adventure.

Even Dennis' armor, which consists of a wide-eyed innocence, a talent for mimicry and a vigorous tenor voice, isn't sufficient to protect him against dragons and villains. As a hero, he inspires confidence only in a couple of girls—love interest Lois Butler and her six-year-old sister Jeri Lou James—who conveniently live in the same rooming house. This gives them ample chance to practice the art of "mothering." And Dennis is just the boy to bring it out.

To everyone else—including viewers—Dennis' armor is noticeably vulnerable to chinks and scratches. When this knight-errant attempts to fulfill one of his heroic missions, he lacks the gallantry, bravado and daring of the Lancelots, Galahads and Percivals. Not one to give up easily, Dennis substitutes determination for sense.

He is without a doubt one of the most bungling—yet appealing—youths of the TV generation. Only Dennis could get tangled up in a telephone cord while making love to a chorus girl. Only Dennis could dress a dog up in baby clothes and pass it off as a friend's offspring. Only Dennis could believe his father was serious when he advised: "Dennis, my boy, you don't have to knock a door down with a battering ram—use your head!"

Personality-wise, Dennis the menace is TV's grown-up little boy. It's pretty apparent that his brain is running a futile race—trying to catch up with his physical development. His present TV role is no different in nature from the muddle-headed underpaid tenor in Jack Benny's cast, nor the "Peck's Bad Boy" of radio's "Day In The Life Of Dennis Day," nor the boy with the Mother Love complex in his early TV shows.

But today Dennis is showing a few feeble signs of maturing. Recently, he cut loose from his doting mama's stranglehold on TV by axing her from the script. She's been replaced in the new format by a vinegar-faced landlady (Minerva Urecal) and a doltish superintendent (Cliff Arquette). And Dennis has become an individual, a bachelor with a roving eye for mischief.

"Dennis the Menace"

and DAY

Even though Dennis is generally considered a bungler, he's a "knight in shining armor" to his two favorite femmes—girlfriend Lois Butler and six-year-old Jeri Lou James Dennis' personal life is no match, in adventure at least, for his TV role. As traditionally Irish as the green hills of Killarney, he started out in life as Owen Patrick Eugene Dennis McNulty, one of six McNulty children. His first vocalizing efforts forced his parents to banish him to the basement to practice. Reason: He sang too loud.

Dennis' mimicry, which today has become a pillar in his act, also began when he was still in knickers. His early versions of the milkman, iceman or a door-to-door salesman have developed into excellent dialect pieces.

Dennis' success story began when he finished a pre-law course at Manhattan College. While waiting to enter Fordham's Law School he whittled the time away by recording a few songs. A Canadian executive heard him sing "Jeannie With The Light Brown Hair" and offered him $75 to record it. Dennis accepted and the recording became his ticket to stardom.

When Jack Benny was auditioning young singers to replace Kenny Baker, Dennis sent him the "Jeannie" disc and was called for a screening. It was Day's unconscious and quaint response that cinched his acceptance. Benny, auditioning the singers personally, called out, "Oh, Dennis." "Yes, please," piped up Owen Patrick McNulty from the roomful of applicants. "That's it," whooped the comedian and Dennis was in.

Day's lusty tenor has been heard now on radio, records and TV. But his film career has been spotty. Before World War II, Dennis appeared in a few movies, but merely to sing a number or two. "It was like being a guest star," he complains. After being off the screen for six years, he recently returned as a star in "The Girl Next Door," which left no one clamoring for more of the Day dramatics. Children still remember him, though, as the voice of Walt Disney's character, "Johnny Appleseed."

Some critics have prophesied that Dennis would be a flop on video. Dennis has the voice, they argue, but hardly the face to qualify him for a young romantic lead. With his sharp ski-slide nose, prim lips and patent-leather gleam to his hair, Dennis is more convincing visually as the smooth type. It's only when he opens his mouth that this image is shattered. Then he once more becomes the timid, left-footed tenor, the innocent underpaid stooge of Benny, the Milquetoast male who only dreams of self-assertion, the knight with flimsy armor.

It might be wise for Dennis to keep TV sets out of his house. Otherwise, Mrs. Day and their three sons (Patrick James, 3; Dennis Eugene, 2, and Michael, 1) might conclude that Daddy Day needs some extra sessions in "knight" school.

Dennis Day can be seen on the "RCA Victor" show at 7 p.m. Fridays on WNBQ (channel 5).

MOLLYCUES

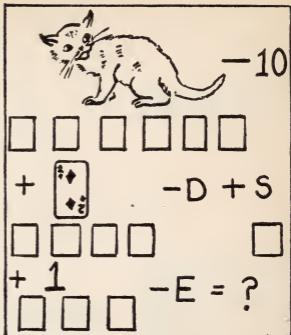

by MOLLY POTKIN  COPYRIGHT 1953

When you work this puzzle correctly, you'll have the name of a TV cowboy who is seen on Sunday afternoon. Write your answer on separate paper. Can you also draw an animal seen out West?

Send your puzzle to Mollycues, % TV Forecast, 185 N. Wabash Ave., Chicago 1, Ill., before Monday, Jan. 19. First prize is $1; second prize, 50 cents; next 25 prizes, a copy of Molly's picture puzzle book. Solution will appear here next week. If you don't win a Mollycues puzzle book, you can get one by sending 35c to TV Forecast.

Dec. 22 MOLLYCUE WINNERS:

Linda Biernat, Gory, Ind; Ann Brown, Granger, Ind; Kenneth Bruce, Cedar Lake, Ind; Sally Bryson, Missoula, Montano; Cotharine Corro, Cicero, Ill; Corale David, Chicago; Mory Eggert, Rockford, Ill; Thomas Gay, Chicago; Bernord Gibbons, Chicago; Marilyn Goodrich, Mishawako, Ind; Tony Jachim, New Buffalo, Mich; Phyllis Joost, Morengo, Ill; Anno

Boys and girls, meet Rodney, official mascot of the Comedy Hour TV show which is seen on Sunday night. Rodney has only appeared on the show five times. But that's probably because he can't see well enough to read the scripts.

You see, this overgrown pup is an Old English Sheep Dog and he has a little trouble with his hair. It grows so fast that it doesn't pay to get him a haircut (which is pretty expensive these days).

For his few appearances on the Comedy Hour, Rodney had help from dancer Jean Harrison who is shown with him in the picture. Jean read the scripts to him and Rodney memorized his barks perfectly.

THIS WEEK'S CONTEST: How many famous men can you think of whose first names are Robert? For the longest list, I'll award $1; second longest, 50 cents; next 15 runners-up, 25 cents each. Mail your lists to Uncle Herbie, % TV Forecast, 185 N. Wabash Avenue, Chicago 1, Ill., before Sunday, Jan. 18.

LOCAL COMEDIAN

Ernie Simon

Rather a general "fun" man than a gagster, Ernie's charm lies in his completely uninhibited brand of corn which fans around Chicago have been cheering for years. Not much competition for Ernie in this category.

LOCAL VARIETY SHOW

Courtesy Hour

A Chicago TV landmark, The Courtesy Hour, emceed by the Courtesy Man himself Jim Moran, has, if anything, improved with age. New and better acts plus top flight lighting and direction have brought this show home again—a winner.

LOCAL QUIZ SHOW

"What's the Answer?"

Mal Bellairs, who really gets around on local TV stations, came through with a victory in this category, mainly because of his winning way with the kids. Another field in which there wasn't much local competition.

LOCAL DRAMA

"Faces in the Window"

A latecomer to TV and a good one. Featuring Ken Nordine and his chilling readings of some of literature's great horror classics, this sends Chicagoans with a taste for the macabre to their TV sets late Saturday night for a good old-fashioned scare.

LOCAL MUSICAL SHOW

Chicago Symphony

Here's good news for Chicago culture lovers. The Chicago Symphony under the conducting of Rafael Kubelik and George Schick romped off with the local musical awards which is as it should be. The Chicago Orchestra brings a welcome dose of great music to TV.

DEAR BOSS:

You wanted I should take a peek at "Meet Millie." Well, I did, and the news I've got for you will make 1953 a safe one for bachelors. This Millie dish isn't bad. She's blonde, cute and has a terrific sense of humor.

But Boss, look out for that creature who's her mother. Talk about obnoxious women. She's boisterous, rude and thoroughly greedy. Worst of all, she hangs around.

I know that film people sometimes write into young girls' contracts a clause to keep them single for a while. They can stop worrying about Millie. She's got an ironclad guarantee against marriage—yeah, a two-legged one.

Now that the holiday season is back in mothballs for another year, how about extending bouquets to the program boys for some pretty tasteful handling of the Christmas theme. Almost unanimously, they abandoned hard sell for soft music. Don't hold your breath, Boss, but we might even get Christ back into Christmas.

There were some exceptions. For example, the commercial yakker's pitch that went something like this:

"Because of Christmas, the Wumple Company, located at 5642 E. Flumpy street, makers of fine foods since 1840, and the loyal sponsor of this show for the past year, whose prices are always just right for your shopping budget, whose motto is service with a smile, who has millions of satisfied customers the world over, whose products can be found in all leading grocery stores, has decided to forego its usual commercial message in keeping with the holiday spirit."

See what I mean?

ROBERT SCHULTZ

Ed. Note: It is.

. . . The thing that bothers me is my feeling that you people aren't doing enough to educate the viewing public to appreciate some of TV's better offerings. I don't mean to be critical, but I think that among all your popular copy Re: Jessel, Godfrey, etc., you could do a critical job in the sense of good newspaper drama, music and art criticism.

Florian Zabach on Club Embassy is wonderful with his violin. We'd like to see him more often. And we are all so happy Bishop Fulton Sheen is back with us. He is very profound and very great. . . .

MRS. T. H. FISHER

I had to write and find out if anyone noticed the boner on Robert Montgomery's show by the cameraman. When the hero was sitting on top of the villain slugging away, evidently it should have been a back view. Instead, we were treated to a good side view with the hero's fist missing the villain's chin by a good four inches. . . .

HAZEL STAMPER

Just because Julius LaRosa was given a job by Mr. Godfrey when he left the service does not give Godfrey the right to subject the young man to indignities whenever he feels like it, just to get a laugh from the crowd. Mr. G's remarks this week deserve an apology to the lad. Julius did a man's job in the Navy and should not be treated like a school boy.
